President Truman Faces Problem In Naming Diplomats

Gardner's Sudden Death Leaves Three Top Diplomatic Posts To Be Filled

MATERIAL SCARCE OBSERVERS ASSERT

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Truman today found himself with three top diplomatic posts on his hands and not enough top-flight diplomats to handle them.

The situation was emphasized with the death of O. Max Gardner, ambassador-designate to Great Britain, for which Gardner was ready to sail at the time of his death.

Wide Speculation
Where Mr. Truman and Secretary of State George C. Marshall will go to find a competent man to fill Gardner's place was not known. There had been wide speculation over the candidates for the post after Ambassador W. Averell Harriman was appointed Secretary of Commerce. Gardner's name was not mentioned among them and his designation created wide surprise.

One person prominently mentioned at that time was Secretary of Navy James Forrestal. However, official quarters gave little credence to that report.

Another mentioned was Joseph E. Davies, longtime ambassador to Moscow. But Davies, at that time, said that his health was such that his doctor would not permit him to take the job.

Police Probe New Beer War Bombing

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police today investigated the 14th bombing in the city's 124-day-old beer war.

A crude fire bomb, made of kerosene and a whiskey bottle, was tossed through the window of a beer distributing establishment of Joseph Broz last night, Joe Simonic, who resides in an apartment above the place, quickly extinguished the resultant blaze before more than negligible damage occurred.

Police also announced they had arrested a man suspected of throwing a bottle through the plate glass window of a downtown tavern that had been picketed the past two weeks. His name was not given.

The beer war is an outgrowth of efforts of the AFL-Teamsters to remain in control of brewery employees, who now are affiliated with the CIO-United Brewery Workers Union.

Truman's Hat Thrown Into Ring For 1948

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Postmaster General Hannegan's reelection boom for President Truman was favorably received by Democratic leaders in Washington today although the White House officially denied any advance knowledge of the surprise move.

Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, tossed Mr. Truman's hat into the political ring for 1948, with a formal announcement at the end of a New York speech praising advancements in the postal service.

The Democratic chairman conferred with the president before going to New York but Presidential

Portal Pay Claims To Hit Government If Found Legal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Undersecretary of War Royal revealed to congress today that claims for portal-to-portal back pay are being filed against army contractors at the rate of almost six million dollars daily.

Royal made it clear that claims against cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors represented a liability against the war department.

He told a house judiciary subcommittee which is studying legislation regulating future portal-to-portal pay suits that "it is impossible to estimate realistically" what the war department's liability may ultimately be. Royal said it could conceivably reach one billion, 400 million dollars.

He revealed that since he testified before the senate judiciary committee two weeks ago, employees' claims filed against war contractors have risen from 200 million dollars to 280 million dollars and are still coming in.

Governor Rejects Appeal By Paper

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 7.—(INS)—The Scranton Times reported today that Gov. James H. Duff has rejected its plea to rescind the parole granted to two convicted rapists.

The men are James Gimboetti, 23, and Octavio Ercoli, 30, both of Jessup.

In a letter to the Times, the governor said he did not propose to question the discretion and judgment of the parole board.

Duff added he had been informed by the attorney general that it is not within his power to upset the board's action in recommending commutation of sentences of Gimboetti and Ercoli.

SCIENTISTS BEGIN HOUSEFLY STUDY

Truman Will Be Jefferson Day Speaker

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—President Truman, whose hat has been tossed into the 1948 presidential ring by Democratic National Chairman Hannegan, will make the principal speech to the party's national Jefferson Day dinners, April 8.

Democratic headquarters made this announcement today a few hours after Hannegan in a New York address launched the 48 boom for Mr. Truman.

The President will deliver his talk in person at a Democratic rally in the Mayflower hotel in Washington and it will be broadcast to the other dinners held simultaneously throughout the nation.

Hannegan also announced that the 1947 Jefferson Day theme is "Peace and Prosperity." He said, "In 1808 Thomas Jefferson declared, 'On the useful pursuits of peace alone, a stable prosperity can be founded.' On that theme, President Truman's record of achievement qualifies him as the best authority in America today."

NEW PROPANE GAS PLANT IS AIDING SUPPLY

According to F. W. Burdette, local manager of the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co., liquid propane is now being used to supplement the gas supply here. First of the propane was reported put in use yesterday.

The gas comes from storage tanks at the company's new plant in Franklin township, near Ellwood City, recently completed.

Although the gas reserve has picked up since yesterday the situation remains critical, Mr. Burdette said. It has not improved enough to permit industry to resume use of operations in some bakeries in the city were curtailed at the request of the gas company when the reserve dropped, due to the heavy drain on the supply yesterday. Bakeries were notified this morning by Mr. Burdette that they would be permitted to resume operation, using about 50 percent of normal supply.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh banker and his wife have deeded 268 acres of virgin timber to the Cooks State Forest in Clarion county. It was announced today by Gov. James H. Duff.

The land was turned over free by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Braun, of Pittsburgh. Braun heads the Farmers bank.

The tract contained hemlock, white pine and various hard woods, and probably was one of the last stands of virgin timber east of the Mississippi river, Duff said.

South Pole Flight May Be Made By Byrd Expedition

Flight Over South Pole Mapped As One Of Possible Early Activities

THREE SHIPS LEAVE LITTLE AMERICA

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
(Representing the Combined American Press (Distributed by International News Service))

ABOARD THE MT. OLYMPUS, Feb. 6.—(Delayed)—(INS)—Three thin-skinned ships of the Antarctic expedition sailed from Little America tonight, seeking safe passage through the formidable ice pack.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and 197 men were left behind for a three weeks stay in a tent town perched on a windswept ice-cap.

A flight over the South Pole has been mapped as one of the possible activities before Byrd's base finally is evacuated about March 1. Whether Byrd himself might make the polar flight aboard one of the six photographic planes has not been disclosed.

Exploratory flight lines radiating in a semi-circle from Little America have been outlined, but the weather probably will be the determining factor.

A tractor trip toward the mountains far to the southwest of Little America also has been considered. "It is a matter now of getting into action after all this planning," Byrd said.

Byrd Leaves Flagship

Byrd left his flagship at 6:30 p. m. He will be quartered in a wainigan, one of three box-like 14 by 6 feet dwellings on skis at the edge of the tent town. The men are quartered in stove-heated tents banked with snow for insulation.

Rear Admiral Richard H. Cruzen went aboard the icebreaker Northwind at 5 p. m. to lead the Mt. Olympus' cargo ships Yancey and Merrick through the ice-pack, which has been perhaps the worst encountered in this area. Some ships suffered light damage on the journey down, and there is danger the pack might freeze suddenly.

The new Navy icebreaker Burton Island is scheduled to meet the flotilla somewhere inside the ice-pack to help in the escorting job. The three (Continued on Page Two)

Polar Regions To Be Explored

Byrd Expedition To Make First "All Mechanized" Land Reconnaissance

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BYRD EXPEDITION, Little America, Feb. 6.—(Delayed)—(INS)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd today announced plans for the first "all mechanized" land reconnaissance of unknown polar regions.

Byrd revealed that a long distance trail party will try to penetrate as deep as 300 miles into the antarctic interior. Leader of the trailblazers will be Marine Captain Vernon Boyd, of Alexandria, Va.

A tractor manned by a six-member reconnaissance team will spearhead the column, followed by a second carrying gasoline.

Attached to the scouting force will be a radio and a weather expert to provide valuable atmospheric reports from projected air operations from Little America.

A civilian radio specialist from Washington, D. C., Amory Waite, will probably handle the radio-man's duties.

President Of Argentina Says Misunderstanding With U.S. Is Cleared Up

By PIERRE LOVING
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

(Copyright, 1947)
(By International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 7.—President Juan Peron of Argentina, who long claimed that his aims were "misunderstood" by other nations of the western hemisphere, declared today that the political misunderstanding between his country and the United States now is ended.

He asserted that "with very little effort" any mistaken notions have been "cleared," adding:

"Currents of friendship and intelligence between both countries appear clearly defined."

In an exclusive interview at the Casa Rosada — Argentine pink "White House"—the "Strong Man" of Argentina told International News Service also that:

1—Argentina is prepared to undertake her proper role in hemisphere defense, as assigned her by joint decision of the other American nations.

2—That his five-year plan for economic development of Argentina definitely will be carried out "100 per cent" in the specified time.

3—He also made it clear that he intends to draft two five-year supplements to the plan, making it a 15-year project in all—one carrying over into the government that succeeds his.

4—That U. S. business firms co-operating with the plan will be paid "cash-on-the-barrel."

Prior to our conversation in his private office, this correspondent had submitted a questionnaire to Peron about a week ago, following an informal 90-minute talk with him in the company of his minister of foreign affairs.

Another Cold Wave Enroute

Western Pennsylvania In Path Of More Severe Weather Is Warning

HIGHWAY TRAFFIC STILL HAZARDOUS

Western Pennsylvanians braced themselves today for another ration of severe weather, garished with snow.

Zero and sub-zero temperatures were expected by Sunday, with high winds accompanying snow tomorrow.

New snow blanketed the entire western section of the state today. It ranged from two inches in the Pittsburgh area up to 14 inches at Erie.

Drifts In Erie Area

Winds whipped the snow into four foot drifts in the Erie district last night. Some roads were limited to one-way traffic as snow removal crews were taxed to keep main highways clear.

More Snow Falls All Over State

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Additional snow was reported today by the State Highways Department in all sections of the state except the southeastern portion of the state and roads were described as "generally slippery."

Maintenance crews were clearing highways and scattering anti-skid materials, the department reported.

One to two inches of snow fell in northwestern counties on top of a seven inch fall, the department said. One to five inches of snow fell during the night in south-central counties; the greatest depth was reported in Cambria county.

Temperatures across Pennsylvania ranged between 15 and 30 degrees and the department reported the mercury was expected to dip tonight.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Rep. Andrews (R) N. Y., chairman of the house armed service committee, declared today that if the draft is extended, "there won't be any universal training."

Andrews said the war department has agreed that while Selective Service is in effect the army will not press for legislation for permanent compulsory military training.

The congressman added that if the war department does not request an extension of the draft beyond its March 31 expiration date, his committee will begin consideration of universal military training in April.

Andrews declared that unlike the last congress when the military affairs committee failed to vote on (Continued on Page Two)

Governor Addresses School Directors

State Executive Favors Raises For School Teachers, But Nothing Unreasonable

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Authority to tax sources other than real estate had the endorsement today of Gov. James H. Duff.

He told the Pennsylvania School Directors Association that the tax burden on real estate was heavy and said more state control would necessarily follow increased appropriations for school districts.

"If local governments insist on coming to the state government every time they need funds," Governor Duff asserted, "then it is only fair that the central or state government insist on exercising more control over local governments."

He told delegates that while he favored increases for school teachers he would not favor "preposterous" demands. A program advanced by one group, which was not identified, would cost the commonwealth $150,000,000 a year, he added.

COAL SHORTAGE IS CRITICAL IN GREAT BRITAIN

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—British Fuel Minister Emanuel Shinwell announced today that the supply of electricity will be cut off Monday from industrial consumers in London and three other important areas due to the critical coal shortage.

Evacuation Of British From Holy Land Ends

Authorities Announce Completion Of Exodus Of Non-Essential Civilians

REPORTS MARTIAL LAW DECREE NEAR

By REGINALD SEIGEL
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

JERUSALEM, Feb. 7.—Palestine authorities announced today that the evacuation of non-essential British civilians from the tension-laden Holy Land has been completed.

Scarcely 72 hours after the first mass exodus of women and children began—when huge Halifax transport planes began ferrying the evacuees to Egypt—the authorities announced that all those ordered out of Palestine have been withdrawn.

Sent to Egypt

In all, some 1,396 families of both civilian and army personnel have been sent to Egypt.

Another handful of women and children arrived last night in London, following a flight from Palestine to Paris. From the latter city, they continued on to Britain aboard the crack "Golden Arrow" boattrain.

Evacuation of the women, children and non-essential male civilians had been ordered by Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham last Saturday. The British high commissioner took this step to allow his troops a free hand in putting down any further Jewish underground attacks, without fear of incurring reprisals on the civilians.

Completion of the evacuation came as Palestine—figuratively a powder keg fearful of being touched off momentarily—heard fears of large-scale operations by both the Arab and Jewish undergrounds.

Report Martial Law Near

Jerusalem buzzed with reports that invocation of martial law could be expected Monday night, when the seven-day British ultimatum expires for the Jewish community to prove its support in the campaign against Extremists. Jewish leaders already have rejected the demand.

Immediately after evicting some 4,000 Jews and numerous Arabs from security zones about the King David hotel, site of military headquarters, armed troops moved into the barricaded compound.

A showdown in the long British-Zionist controversy was believed near.

Members of the Irgun Zvai Leumi have threatened a new outbreak of anti-British attacks if the death (Continued on Page Two)

Eleven Are Dead In Plane Crash In Madrid Area

MADRID, Feb. 7.—(INS)—All 11 occupants of a Havana-to-Rome airliner, including five American crew members, were listed today as dead in the crash of the four-motored transport against a fog-shrouded peak 100 miles west of Madrid.

The American victims were Capt. A. B. Kyger, pilot; Lee Marlow, co-pilot; N. R. Russell, second pilot; H. B. Peters, mechanic; and P. L. Ness, navigator. All of Miami, Fla. Three other crewmen also perished.

The three passengers were Diego Veltia Esparta and Gloria Mensa De Ruano, Cubans, and Serafin Fernandez, a Spaniard.

The airliner, operated by the "Columbus route of Cuba," was on the Lisbon-Madrid leg of its flight when it crashed into a peak in the Cerdos mountains near Pedro Bernabes and burst in flames.

U. S. Dollar Worth 10,000 Of Chinese

SHANGHAI, Feb. 7.—(INS)—One United States dollar was worth ten thousand Chinese dollars on Shanghai's black market exchange today.

In December, the highest black market rate was 6,600 to one.

The official exchange rate is 3,350 to one.

The rise of ten thousand was attributed to the government's announcement earlier this week that a fifty percent tax will be levied on all "unnecessary" imports.

American businessmen, caught between the new import tax and the black market exchange, were finding it impossible to proceed with normal business transactions.

Strong Box Saves $500 From Flames

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Five hundred dollars was recovered today from a flame-seared strong box taken from the ruins of a home in Marietta which was destroyed by fire.

It was the second time in seven years that Mr. and Mrs. William Harris were made homeless by fire. Harris told police he was unable to retrieve the box from the flames after an oil stove exploded but waited until the ruins had cooled.

USO Campaign Ends Monday

Subscriptions Are Lagging Here Campaign Committee Finds Today

With most of the contributions received to date coming from individuals, who feel that local residents still have an obligation to the 2,584 men yet in service, indications today point to the fact that the USO fund campaign in Lawrence county will fail to meet its goal of $15,000, the Rev. Thomas J. Jones, treasurer state today.

The sum of $5.81 for each man in service from the county was the goal sought here.

The most heart-rending part of USO's work has just begun, Chairman Joseph Solomon states. Thousands of men are in our service and veterans' hospitals, lying restlessly on quiet, white beds wondering when the war will be over for them? They are wearing the uniform in which the USO is most interested now: the bathrobe with the U.S. Army or U.S. Navy label on it. It is not the uniform of marching men but it is the uniform of brave men. It is the uniform we should not forget.

The USO job of changing frowns to smiles and giving wounded men the will to get better is a way to pay the debt of gratitude we owe these men, who, in a real sense, are still in service.

During 1947, there will be more than 200,000 veterans in hospitals and 1,500,000 service men on active duty. They need USO. Make out your check now and mail to the Rev. Thomas J. Jones, 100 East Reynolds street.

Legislators Must Underwrite Program

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The general assembly was told today by Gov. James H. Duff that it must underwrite the $22,000,000 mental hospital improvement program.

Arab Army May Strike

Moreover, there were persistent reports that a powerful Arab "army" of Haj El Hussein, exiled grand mufti of Jerusalem, may strike if there are any future attempts to solve the Palestine problem by means of a partition.

Believed to number more than 1,000 members, armed as well as the Irgunists, the Arab force is believed still to be under command of the grand mufti who is living in exile in Egypt.

So far, the Arab underground has struck only at other Arabs known to have sold land to Jews.

Authoritative Jewish sources reported that young Jews began building new settlements in undisclosed areas of Palestine. The development got underway at dawn, these quarters said.

The entire Jewish community was in a state of apprehension over the next move by the British government. Some quarters believed the authorities may withdraw recognition of the Jewish agency, which was established to handle Jewish matters in negotiations with Britain as the mandate power.

Such withdrawal of recognition was expected to influence hundreds of Jews to join the underground.

New Castle-Volant Machines Damaged

MERCER, Feb. 7.—Lawrence Simpson, of 1018 West Washington street, New Castle, was attempting to flag down assistance for his stalled machine, when James Alession of R. D. 2 Volant, did not see him and drove his car into the rear of the Simpson machine.

Warns Townships About Supplying Fire Protection

Safety Director Davies Says Some Townships Have No Fire Protection Of Their Own

Safety Director D. O. Davies today stated that "people who expect help, should do something to help themselves".

He referred to the fire situation, outside the city limits. The director explained that some townships and boroughs have fire departments and others do not. He said that recently city fire equipment and fire fighters were summoned to both Neshannock and Union townships.

Neshannock township has a fire department but the city equipment was needed. Union township has no fire department. It only has one fire hydrant.

Some other townships and boroughs have fire bureaus and some do not, which caused Safety Director Davies' statement "those who have none should take steps to help themselves, because the time may come when fires in the city, at the same time as fires outside the city, will keep the city departments fighting inside the city."

He pointed out that the city has several pumps, bought by the city from the War Assets administration, and which the city has offered to sell to boroughs and township which want to help themselves.

Automotive Output Of Week Is 90,955

DETROIT, Feb. 7.—(INS)—This week's automotive output in the United States and Canada was set at 90,955 units, a drop of 3,119 vehicles from last week's total.

Ward's automotive reports attributed the major part of the slump to an acute lack of sheet steel and a shortage of natural gas.

Late returns on the industry's January production listed a total of 372,249 units turned out in American and Canadian plants.

February's turnout may reach a volume of 387,510 cars and trucks if labor and material conditions are favorable. Production in the same months of 1941 reached 569,332 units.

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Three departments of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation's Aliquippa works remained down and 1500 workers were idle today as the aftermath of a strike of 18 men.

Approximately 3500 were idle when the strike of the 13 narrow gauge railroad workers ended Tuesday. Lack of steel caused by the strike was blamed for failure to get all departments back in operation.

Meanwhile, four of the 13 strikers—two enginemen and two brakemen—have been discharged by the company. Their cases will be sent to arbitration by the CIO-United Steelworkers, it was announced.

Andrews said "the trip to the war department will take the place of a closed committee session on Capitol Hill at which it had been planned to have Patterson and Eisenhower testify. He stated:

"I presume that the war department will advise us during our visit what its decision is on the draft. We expect to receive also information on the army's manpower needs, its commitments, and whatever data is required to draw up intelligently legislation".

Andrews revealed that his group hopes to complete action soon on legislation unifying army and navy procurement and providing for identical procedures in recruiting army and navy nurses.

one of the jobs being performed by Brig. Gen. Frank F. Everest's newly created Yukon sector headquarters at Ladd Field.

Everest's important cold weather test section is headed by one of the smartest and youngest full colonels of his staff. He is Col. George A. Walker, 20, Council Bluffs, Ia., who said confidently:

"We can lick most of the severe Arctic winter problems if given time."

Walker, a be-ribboned ace of the Fifth air force, is testing every type of aircraft from a P-50 Shooting Star to a V-1 buzz bomb at Ladd Field in the coldest Alaskan winter in 20 years.

Even with the aid of a portable heating stove which pumps warm air into a cold airplane engine, it takes an hour to start an airplane when the temperature is between 30 to 40 below zero, Walker said: "If it's minus 50 it takes nearly two hours, and if it's below minus 50 then we have to use a blow torch to get the portable gasoline stove working first. And a blow torch is only good indoors."

COURSE IN FISHING AT PENN STATE

STATE COLLEGE, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Joe College and his girl friend, Betty Coed, will be expert anglers when they graduate from Penn State college.

George Harvey, nationally-known expert, will inaugurate what is believed to be the nation's first accredited course in fishing at Penn State in 1947.

The formal name of the course will be "principles and techniques of angling," and classes will be held twice weekly. Students successfully completing the course will receive two college credits.

Harvey instituted the idea at State College a year ago on an informal basis. He said it was so successful that he has been approached by several other schools interested in a similar course.

Topics included in the course are fly tying, fly casting and care and repair of equipment.

North America has two species of wolves, the red and the grey.

Princeton Road Couple Wed 50 Years Hold Open House

On Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Mattheu Kalajainen, of R. D. 1, Princeton road, celebrated their golden wedding at home with open house during the afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock and evening from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Friends, neighbors, and relatives called to extend congratulations and during the evening members of Trinity Lutheran church, formerly the Finnish church, called and presented a short program for the couple's entertainment. The program included two solos sung by Mrs. Edward Leppaluoto.

Mr. and Mrs. Kalajainen are two of the few surviving charter members of the Finnish church here. The couple received lovely flowers and anniversary remembrances.

Refreshments were served buffet style from a table centered with a vase of yellow roses and yellow carnations. A four-tiered wedding cake was a feature. The couple's three daughters, Mrs. John Kukkola, Mrs. Edward Wawrzynski and Mrs. John Montanary, and their daughters-in-law were aides.

In the evening between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock, dinner was served at home to the immediate family, a group of nearly 50, including Mr. and Mrs. Kalajainen, their nine children together with their husbands and wives, 24 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Kalajainen were surprised during the morning by the arrival from Quincy, Mass., of Mr. Kalajainen's niece, Mrs. Charles Kondelin, and Mr. Kondelin.

Also here from out-of-town for the occasion were their son, Eli Kalajainen, and Mrs. Kalajainen.

FEDERATION JUNIOR COSTUME PROGRAM

Attired in a range of gown fashions from the Gay Nineties to the early '30s, members of the Federation Junior club gathered Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Alex J. Brincko, 205 West Leasure avenue, for a social time and short business meeting.

Gowns lovely and the height of fashion in years past were worn by the members and some, particularly the straight sheath one-time style creations and the befringed and be-ruled barely-to-the-knee length models of the "Roaring Twenties" caused much hilarity.

Prizes for the most typical costumes were awarded Mrs. Richard Marquis for her costume of black lace swanky and swishy with tiers of long black fringe and to Mrs. Gust Sanfilippo for her ruffled pink chiffon evening gown.

Tagged with the name of a person or character, living, dead, or fictitious, as she enters, each member identified herself by questions. Later "crazy" bridge was a pastime with prizes awarded to the winners, holders of low scores, Mrs. William Y. Gibson and Miss Reba Sines.

During business, with Miss Sines presiding, extensive revisions of the club constitution were voted as read by Mrs. Robert S. Gordon, chairman of the constitution committee. Named as the nominating committee were Mrs. Travis French, Mrs. Marshall G. Matheny, and Miss Jean McLure.

Social committee in charge of arrangements and serving refreshments at the close of the evening were Mrs. Marshall G. Matheny, Mrs. Edward M. Rea, Mrs. Louis Hazen, and Mrs. Francis Sawyer.

Next meeting will be March 6 in Highland U. P. church when the Junior Reading Circle will be guests for a guest night program and tea.

Mrs. Clyde M. Whittaker, of Englewood avenue, entertained the Lawrence County Garden club in her home Thursday afternoon at one o'clock with Mrs. Otto Pearsall as co-hostess. Buffet luncheon was served from a nicely appointed table centered with spring flowers. Mrs. James W. Moorehead poured.

A combination "Dr. I. Q." and "Information Please" program was a feature of the afternoon. Mrs. John Elliott as master of ceremonies aided by experts Mrs. Carl Paisley and Mrs. L. P. Royston interrogated members with puzzling questions on trees, flowers, vines, and other forms of nature as well as about state flowers and all-American winners.

During the business session Mrs. James W. Moorehead named two committees: nominating, Mrs. Harry Wettich, Mrs. John Loudon and Mrs. Otto Pearsall; and new program committee, Mrs. James D. Crawford, Mrs. C. A. Burckart, and Mrs. C. M. Whittaker.

Club members are looking forward with interest to the dedication of a bronze plaque at the community rose garden opposite Jameson Memorial hospital at a ceremony to take place sometime in the early summer.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

A D A Is Trying To Be Practical

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—From nearly every part of the country has come a heartening response to the new liberal organizing, Americans for Democratic Action. This is the group that has enlisted nationally-known progressives while at the same time excluding Communists and fellow travelers.

The letters and telegrams that have come to the headquarters of ADA here in Washington indicate a widespread interest in a progressive organization that would be free from Communist double-dealing. A regional conference is being organized for the Midwest for March 1, and other regions are preparing similar get-togethers.

Much has been made of the differences between ADA and the Progressive Citizens' Association, formed with the blessing of former Vice President Henry A. Wallace. Most of the protesting has come from the PCA, which recently sent out a confidential memorandum hinting that ADA planned to use "Fascist" methods to screen out Communists.

Having taken a stand on the exclusion of Communists, ADA is going ahead on the practical organizing job, ignoring efforts to stir up a scrap between the two groups. Obviously, ADA has a long way to go before it becomes an effective political organization. It takes more than a mimeographing machine and an intellectual zeal to make a political movement, as the demise of countless organizations in the past has repeatedly proved.

Promise of Mass Support
One thing that can be said for ADA is that it is starting out with a promise of some mass support. Union heads from both the C. I. O. and A. F. L. are members of ADA's committee on the whole. In contrast, in PCA's confidential memorandum the only union leader listed, along with intellectuals and artists, as a sponsor of the movement is A. F. Whitney, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Those active in pushing ADA are acutely aware of the need to enroll members of the Senate and House. Among those who have expressed an interest are two prominent House liberals, Representative Henry M. Jackson of Washington and Representative Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Jackson, secretary of the Democratic caucus, is an interesting case in point. He is the only Democrat from the Pacific northwest to survive the Republican landslide of Nov. 5. Perhaps the chief reason for this remarkable survival is the fact that Jackson escaped the Communist stigma which was successfully fixed on most other Democratic candidates. In part this was an outgrowth of the bitter fight centering around former Representative Hugh Delaney of Seattle, who had followed the Communist line but who seemed to be slavish devotion. To save Delaney from defeat, left wingers, including many now associated with PCA, sent thousands of dollars into his district.

An honest progressive, Jackson was elected by the rural voters in his district, who believe in public power and the other objectives that stand for the northwest traditionally. To save Delaney from defeat, left wingers, including many now associated with PCA, sent thousands of dollars into his district.

Norris Replacement Needed
That was the role of the late Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska throughout the cautious, conservative '20s. Norris battled tirelessly, year in and year out, to save Muscle Shoals from passing from government ownership into private hands. He won that fight, and Muscle Shoals became the nucleus for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Leaders such as Norris and the La Follettes of Wisconsin gave the progressive cause status and reality. They were working not as intellectuals but as practical politicians with genuine grass-roots support. It is significant that both Norris and the La Follettes came out of the Republican Party. That is an issue which has not yet been resolved within ADA. There are those in the organization who believe that it should include both Republicans and Democrats. They argue that Republican senators like Wayne Morse of Oregon and Irving M. Ives of New York, who have many objectives in common with ADA's membership, would add strength to the new organization.

On the other side are those who agree with Chester Bowles, former OPA administrator, who said at the dinner launching ADA that the only hope for progressivism was within the Democratic Party. This, in the opinion of some liberals in ADA, tends to restrict the group too narrowly at its inception. Before much longer, this issue will have to be settled. But meanwhile, ADA is getting down to the practical task of grass-roots organization.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Service)
The State department denies that we are interested in purchasing Greenland... The feeling seems to be that we own enough cold weather now.

So far Greenland is the only item that hasn't turned up on a war surplus list but inventory hasn't been completed.

We had a surplus as nearly as I can figure out, enough cameras to photograph each head individually enough dental equipment to penetrate the Siegfried line with small drills, and enough cigarette lighters to warm the population of Europe for three years.

Then there are the ads for surplus lipsticks, face powder and perfume... If we couldn't lick 'em obviously we were going to lure 'em.

Of course the stuff didn't get to the boys and girls but it sure looked pretty piled up in the warehouses... at cost-plus.

In the event of another war I am going to be the first man in Washington bidding for a contract... You'll see the largest hairnet factory in the world erected at your expense.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

At three o'clock this afternoon I have an appointment with my dentist. I am scared stiff.

During my newspaper days I faced some pretty dangerous situations. I spent days and nights out on the desert with a sheriff's posse tracking down a band of desperadoes. I almost got killed by a holdup man who was hiding in a duck blind in the Alameda marshes. I lived with a herd of hoboes in the Livermore Valley in California trying to find a murderer whom they were suspected of harboring.

None of those exploits scared me. They were fun. But that dentist's appointment this afternoon sends cold shivers down my spine.

This fellow is what you optimistically call a painless dentist.

He drills you with a smile and tells you it won't hurt a bit. You probably know the rest yourself. "Lives there a man with soul so dead who'd have no more tooth in his head?" (Pardon the steal.)

I can see it now, that clean, gleaming torture machine alongside my chair; the running fountain with the paper cup; the glass table in front with dozens of little instruments; the disgustingly little nurse and the b-z-z-z-z, b-z-z-z-z, b-z-z-z-z of the drill.

I can see it now, that clean, gleaming torture machine alongside my chair; the running fountain with the paper cup; the glass table in front with dozens of little instruments; the disgustingly little nurse and the b-z-z-z-z, b-z-z-z-z, b-z-z-z-z of the drill.

Yet, why should I be scared? I read in my paper this morning that there are 500,000,000 cavities in this country right now and that 112,000,000 new ones are added this year.

I don't know where Dr. Harold Hillebrand, general secretary of the American Dental Association, got those figures, unless he examined every one of the 130 million people in this country. But that is what he said, and I don't doubt his word.

And do you know why there are so many cavities?

People don't brush their teeth at the right time, said the article. I brush mine in the morning and at night, and you probably do the same thing.

But that's where you and I are all wrong.

Teeth should be brushed immediately after every meal or after eating candy. Decay begins right after eating, especially starches or sugar.

I think I am going to suggest to the store where I buy our candy to put a toothbrush in every box. I often nibble some candy in the office or on the train, and I usually don't carry any toothbrush in my pocket.

Hereafter I shall brush my teeth as soon as I finish my meals.

But in the meantime I have an appointment with my dentist this afternoon, and I am scared stiff.

I wish I had read that article ten years ago.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Q. If I am separated from the service just before school opens and do not have time to make formal application to VA and wait for official determination of my eligibility and entitlement before the beginning of the term, may I attend classes?

A. Yes. You make application, formal or informal, directly to the approved school that you desire to attend. You should, however, make a formal application on Form 150 at the earliest possible time. This formal application may be submitted to the Veterans Administration through the approved school.

Q. Is National Service Life Insurance subject to taxation?

A. Payments are exempt from taxation, but the exemption does not cover any property purchased in part or wholly out of such payments.

Q. I am a totally disabled veteran and rated as in need of regular aid and attendance. Can I use my wife or daughter as an attendant?

A. It is not necessary for a veteran who is so rated to hire an outside person to attend him. He would receive the increased amount irrespective of who attends him.

Q. Several of us veterans wish to buy property together, may we each use our guaranty to do this?

A. Yes, but the total amount guaranteed for each veteran may not exceed $4,000 or 50 percent of each borrower's share of the loan.

Q. Does a discharge "Under conditions other than dishonorable" mean any kind of discharge except a dishonorable discharge?

A. Yes. An honorable discharge or discharge under honorable conditions qualifies a veteran for benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill); a dishonorable discharge disqualifies him, but a discharge that is neither honorable or dishonorable may qualify or disqualify, depending upon the determination of the "conditions" under which he received it. Veterans Administration determines all such cases.

Q. I am taking training under the G. I. Bill and am working at night for which I receive the usual 10 percent differential. Do I have to report this differential to the Veterans Administration in making a report of my income?

A. Yes. Both the base pay and the 10 percent differential would be included as wages in determining the rate of subsistence allowance payable and accordingly must be reported by the veteran and the employer.

Presents New View Of Harold Stassen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7. IT IS pleasant—and not without significance—to know that Mr. Harold Stassen, whose ability and character are generally conceded, has shed—at least partially—the shoddy liver of the "true liberalism" and that before this session of Congress is over promises to be thought of generally as a "moderate conservative."

AT ANY rate, that is the view of close friends who have talked with him lately. They say he is greatly gratified at recent attacks upon him by the far left-wing press, such as the Daily Worker, which now declares that he is "all out against organized labor" (which, of course, is nonsense) and not a "true liberal" at all. Mr. Stassen is reported as feeling that the picture of him as inclined toward radicalism is a deliberate misrepresentation. Though at one time he certainly did stress his own "liberalism" and talk a lot about the necessity of "liberalizing" the Republican party, taking it out of the hands of the "reactionaries," there has never been anything in his public record to justify regarding him as in the least degree radical.

THE truth is that the positions he has most recently taken, and the statements he has most recently made seem to put him much more in political harmony with conservatives like Senator Byrd and Senator Taft than with the left-wingers such as Senator Wayne Morse and George Aiken of his own party, or with Mr. Henry Wallace, Senator Charles McNary and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt among the Democrats. For example, consider Mr. Stassen's recent statements on the vital issues of budget cuts and labor.

HE insists that the Truman budget of 37 billion can be cut approximately five billion; that there is so much padding of expenses in departments that this can be done without crippling the national defense or any essential government function. He wants the wartime excise taxes re-enacted, as urged by Mr. Truman, so as to provide a billion more revenue, and believes it essential not only to reduce taxes but to reduce the national debt, which he conceives to be of menacing size. Now, if there is anything in this position different from the positions of Senator Byrd, whom the "true liberals" call a "reactionary," or of Senator Taft, whom they denounce as an "Old Guardist," it is not visible to the naked eye.

ON the other hand, it lays down a doctrine abhorrent to every "true liberal," whether he is a member of the Wallace-sponsored Progressive Citizens of America or the anti-Communist group sponsored by Mrs. Roosevelt; or of the left-wingers of his own party. Because, it bands him not as a spender but as a saver, identifies him with such old-fashioned ideas that that of thrift in government is worth while; that living permanently beyond its means is as unsound for a nation as for an individual; that waste is undesirable. In addition, it clashes with that noble New Deal economic tenet that the size of the national debt is utterly unimportant because "we owe it to ourselves."

NOW when to this is added the fact that Mr. Stassen has expressed the view that a series of new wage demands, through strikes as planned by the CIO, would be bad for the country, for industry and for labor; that he has criticized the National report, upon which the CIO is basing its demands, and is known to favor labor legislation at this session, not of a "punitive" or "drastic" or "un-American" nature, but, nevertheless, very different from that favored by Senator Taft—when these things are added to his already declared budget and debt positions, it is clear that it is a misrepresentation to call Mr. Stassen a "left-winger" and that "moderate conservative" is a far more appropriate description.

IN addition, his afireadid well-informed and intimate friends assert that so far from it being Mr. Stassen's purpose in establishing headquarters in Washington to nag at the Republican majority in Congress and goad it toward the left, his purpose is to co-operate. Instead of finding himself hostile to the Republican leadership, he finds himself not far from being in harmony with it. This, they say, is not because he has shifted his position but because he is essentially a sound and honest man.

THERE is some rejoicing in Stassen's new position.

WASHINGTON.—President Truman reports to Congress on the United Nations. The justifiable hope and confidence to which the great progress of the United Nations in the past year has given rise can be betrayed and lost. The difficulties and dangers that lie before us are many and serious.

LONDON.—Richard K. Law, former British undersecretary for foreign affairs, describes present-day Germans as "odious in defeat—as object, self-pitying and unwilling to face the facts—as they were arrogant and vicious in victory."

SMALL SISTER 'TAG ALONG'

"Tease" and "Tagalong" might well be the names of two children of the same family, several years apart in ages, "Tease" being the older, "Tagalong" the younger. Here is one mother's problem.

"Dear Dr. Myers: We have a boy 7½ and a girl 3½ years of age. Now the little girl seldom plays with others and as soon as her brother returns from school she tags him around. Sometimes he abuses her and I scold him—then he says, 'You don't like me as you like her.' Or when I punish him he gives me the same remark. Or when he is punished he will say, 'Now do the same to her.' When she is punished he laughs and seems to get a big kick out of it, and that certainly provokes me. First thing when he gets up in the morning the teasing starts.

Tried To Explain

"Out of it all, he thinks we like her more than we like him, but that's not true. Do you think I do? I've tried to explain to him all the liberties he has she doesn't have. When he's nice to her they get along fine. When he teases her she screams. Evidently he gets some satisfaction doing this. I'm always trying to tell him to share his things with her but he seems to want his property left alone, although he shares it with his friends."

In substance, I replied in about this fashion. I have a deal of sympathy for that boy. If he goes somewhere, his baby sister tags along. No doubt you expect him to take her with him everywhere he goes. If his playmates come to see him, she must be with them, too. They also consider her a nuisance then. Why should he share all his things with her when she can't always appreciate them or be careful of them?

A Constant Pest

He feels his little sister is a constant pest and burden to him and that because of her he is robbed of your affection and is scolded and punished much by you. Because he is scolded and punished so much more than his little sister is, he feels sure you don't love him so much as you love her. He is jealous. Because of this jealousy he teases her and resents your punishment of him. Any child who

Views Of The News

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U. N. S. Foreign Editor)

The popular if extravagantly erroneous picture of Germany rushing heading toward recovery stood torn to ribbons today by the words of a former newspaperman who is now a conservative member of the British Parliament.

He is the Rt. Hon. Richard K. Law, undersecretary for foreign affairs in the coalition cabinet of Winston Churchill, a one-time British UNRRA delegate and an acknowledged expert in sociology.

The debate he initiated before the House of Commons on what is to be done with Germany pointed out the interesting fact that progress made in the United States occupation zone under Gen. Joseph T. McNarney is not representative of the disordered Reich as a whole. As a matter of fact, he indicated that heavy American expenses in Germany and back-breaking work by the occupation forces have given a false picture of the general situation.

Law disclosed that in the British zones of north and northwestern Germany "from 20 to 30 million human beings are rotting before our eyes."

The intent of his speech was to show that the problems of human misery perhaps transcend the harsh and bitter rewards of a lost aggressive war. But he also expressed the fear that communism would seep in to fill the "mor-

CRAVATEUR

My "in-laws" brother, I confess, Has richer tastes than I. He wears the most expensive dress But dividends can buy. But of his neckties now I sing In envy, deep and pure. A label tells their fashioning Was by a "cravateur."

I've always worn the common bow, In stripe or polka dot. The sort that haphazarders show And round their fingers knot. It isn't long before they're frayed, When lost is their allure. But they're just neckties factory made. Not by some "cravateur."

With little money in the bank, And in my pocket less, I can't afford that bit of swank Which personal ties express. I wear the simple blue and gray, As long as they endure. Without this label to display: "Made by a cravateur."

One knows not what the years may hold, Or fortune may bestow. Perhaps where dollar ties are sold Forever I must go. But still one secret wish have I, Ere ends my earthly tour. Just once I'd like to wear a tie "Made by a cravateur."

The World and the Mud Puddles

WHEN DO WE START?

More than a year after the cessation of the war the United States is still wrestling with the problem of restored civilian production. Hardly a day passes but some industry announces work stoppages, due to shortages of vital materials, shortages due to work stoppages in supply lines. Almost the entire year of 1946 witnessed a continuing series of strikes in major industries. The major strike, the electrical strike, the steel strike, the rail strike, the maritime strike and two coal strikes have served to interrupt output and make for general industrial confusion.

This tremendous loss in production, as anyone should be able to see, is bound to be a large factor in prices. It has created scarcities in almost every line of commodities. These scarcities have developed at a time when consumer demand is greatest, due to long delay in obtaining wanted and badly needed items. They persist at a time when the purchasing power in the hands of the people is the greatest ever known to any nation—about twenty-

"STAR LIGHT, STAR BRIGHT—"

Astronomers have found a stellar object they say is 20,000 times hotter than the sun. Though Old Sol can get pretty well steamed up along about July and August, this new star makes him seem little more than a round ice cube.

A confirmed winter hater, we wouldn't trade Old Sol for this new hopped-up sun—unless Earth could say 20,000 times farther away from it than we are from our celestial Papa.

Earth, as a satellite of such a super-sizer, would have about as much chance as a snowflake trying to get friendly with a blow torch.

"A star," sky students say, "loses off its mass and energy in radiation." In plain English, this new sun is throwing its weight around like a celestial lush in a stellar barroom.

Let's just hope that Old Sol, who is making the rounds of space (and us with him) has sense enough to stay out of those precincts where the temperatures are more than slightly terrific!

Hey Mac! Get your head out from under those blankets and turn off the lights! We couldn't reach that hot-shot star in 10 times sound-trillion years!

In fact, that torrid twinkler is so far away that even with a king's size telescope it looks no brighter than a spark from a cigarette lighter that's about to go out of business.

CHURCH IS ROBBED

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Police today sought thieves who stole cash and war bonds totaling $1250 from the rectory of Our Lady of Victory church in West Philadelphia last night while the priests of the parish were in the church hearing confessions.

The Rev. Edward A. Lyons, pastor, told investigators the loot was removed from a bureau drawer in a second-floor bedroom. The robbers were believed to have gained entry to the rectory by a side door leading from the church.

Lt. Cmdr. William Wright Kelly, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newell A. Kelly, 314 Shaw street, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, and gold stars in lieu of his second, third, and fourth, Air Medals in a ceremony at the Navy department. The awards were presented by Rear Admiral Thomas S. Combs, USN, deputy and assistant chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics; the citation accompanying the awards was signed by Vice Admiral J. D. Price, USN, Commander Air Force, Pacific Fleet, in the name of the President of the United States.

Lt. Cmdr. Kelly, who is on duty in the Fighter Design section of the Bureau of Aeronautics at the Navy department, received the awards for participating in 20 flights as a member of Fighting Squadron 18 over combat areas in the Pacific theater between November 19, 1943 and November 23, 1943; November 25, 1943 and February 22, 1944.

Citation Text

Text of the citation accompanying the gold star in lieu of his fourth Air Medal is as follows:

"For meritorious acts while participating in aerial flight as a fighter pilot in thwarting an attack by a large force of enemy aircraft on ships of a U. S. Navy task force, while at sea west of Bougainville during the afternoon of November 11, 1943. When a rendezvous for a second strike on Rabaul was interrupted by an attack of enemy dive bombers and torpedo bombers, he intercepted and shot down one enemy dive bomber. He pressed home his attack in utter disregard of the anti-aircraft fire of the task force and of return fire from enemy planes. His airmanship and courageous devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest tradition of the United States Naval service."

Weber Appointment
Will Be Submitted
To State Senate

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today was expected to submit to the Senate for confirmation Monday the appointment of Brig. Gen. Frank A. Weber of Beaver Falls as adjutant general.

Duff late yesterday signed a measure approved by the General Assembly reducing the requirements for the $10,000-a-year post and thus paving the way for Weber's confirmation.

Although the GOP lacked one of 34 votes, the required constitutional majority, because of the illness of Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, of Dauphin, it was not expected that the Democrats would oppose Weber.

Under the bill approved by Duff, the requirements were cut from 15 to 10 years and permitted an "accumulation" service in the regular Army, National or State Guards, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard.

Only Weber and ex-Mayor Charles R. Barber of Erie, named secretary of welfare by Duff, have not taken over their duties. Barber has been confirmed by the Senate.

nine billion dollars in money and savings. It is logical and inevitable, in such circumstances, that the cost of living should increase.

Certain leaders of organized labor insist that the only way in which workers can meet this increase in living costs is by raising wages again, while at the same time permitting no increase in commodity prices. Experience should have made it plain that the higher prices of which they now complain, and upon which they base their demands for more pay, are due primarily to wage increases previously obtained. It takes no chart or graph for the individual of ordinary intelligence to perceive that most price rises date from the eighteen and one-half-cent wage increase in practically every line of industry. The inexorable result of further wage increases of consequence is further increases in prices.

Isn't it far more sensible to push down living costs by the fullest possible production, bringing supply into balance with demand, than by a further pyramiding of production costs by nationwide wage boosts? We cannot expect the free play of competition so long as producers lag along with an output so meager that it is grabbed up by eager consumers regardless of price. In the motor industry, as an example, the market is still a seller's market, because the demand is many times ahead of the supply. Prices in this industry depend largely on volume production. But volume production has been halted for more than a year since the war. Let the big rivals in the motor world get into full swing, turning out their full quota of cars, and free competition will bring a buyer's market, with the certainty of lower prices. What is true in motors is true in other lines.

The big factor in living costs—and the basis of inflation—is too little goods and too much money. If labor and management will join hands to insure the maximum of production, balancing up supply with demand, prices are bound to take care of themselves.

sen circles over the new disposition to class him as a "moderate conservative." The opinion is held that this will enhance his chances in the 1948 Republican convention, which in the event of a deadlock between Taft and Dewey would hardly turn toward an avowed "true liberal" as a compromise. Certainly, the Republicans are not that kind of a party and their convention will not be that kind of convention. For that matter, neither will the Democrats be that kind of a party in 1948. Apparently they have gotten over that spell of sickness and are not likely to have a relapse.

Drastic Labor Law Revision Is Requested

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce urged congress on Thursday to enact a drastic labor program revising the Wagner Act and outlawing the closed shop, sympathy strikes and secondary boycotts.

W. Homer Hartz, member of the chamber's labor relations committee, submitted to the Senate labor committee a program calling for: A single conciliation administrator, prohibition of compulsory unionism along with sympathy strikes and secondary boycotts, a ban against labor violence and a guarantee of the right of free speech to management.

"Monopolistic Practices" Hartz said the chamber opposes "monopolistic practices" involved in industry-wide bargaining, compulsory arbitration in cases where public interest is not paramount, and the use of union power to force extraction of royalties.

He added that the Wagner Act "is silent concerning the rights of employers and responsibilities of labor unions and these should be provided."

Earlier, Sen. Morse (R) Ore., demanded a full investigation of the U. S. Conciliation Service as a forerunner of "drastic changes" in its set-up.

Lawrence County Farm, Home News

By Extension Representatives
Lewis C. Dayton, Agriculture
Mrs. Mary McClain Hollobaugh,
Home Economics.

GARDENERS URGED TO CONTINUE HOME WORK

February 2 to 8 has been designated as National Garden Planning Week, and local forces everywhere urged to organize for an effective postwar garden program.

Reporting that Pennsylvania had as many as a million home gardens during the peak year of the war, W. E. Nissley and J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialists of the Pennsylvania State college, say that many of these gardeners will continue to grow home gardens.

They explain that growing vegetables in the home garden has two main values: reducing the cost of living and improving the diet. They explain that the garden will supply food for the whole year when the vegetables are used fresh, frozen, canned, or stored.

Lawrence county gardeners are urged to get their seeds and fertilizer ordered at once. Some seeds are in low supply and late orders may not be filled. Garden fertilizer should be bought in 100-pound sacks. Garden tools should be repaired and otherwise put in shape now for the season just ahead.

Report 36 Died In State Plane Crashes In Year

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The State Aeronautics commission reported today that 36 persons were killed in 24 private airplane crashes in Pennsylvania during 1946.

No commercial airliners crashed on scheduled flights in the state last year, but three army fliers were killed in air mishaps, director William L. Anderson said.

"Twelve of the fatal civilian accidents, causing 17 deaths, were directed attributable to low and reckless flying by comparatively inexperienced pilots who were operating aircraft contrary to regulations governing the minimum height of flight," Anderson said.

During the year, he reported, 69 convictions were obtained out of 71 arrests for aeronautical violations. No arrests were made for persons flying while intoxicated, he added.

Four commercial airline fliers were killed and another injured seriously in the crash of a Constellation airplane on a training flight at Reading last year.

Commission inspectors and state police have launched the drive to curb reckless flying.

Babson Gives Views On Present Stock Market

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1947, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 7.—I advance the following ten reasons as to why this is no time to sell stocks which are paid for and held for income.

BABSON
Hence, any concerted buying would send up prices.

1. The huge amount of money in circulation. This has increased from 7 billions in 1940 to 28 billions in 1947. It seems as if more of this would be coming into the stock market.

2. Only small amounts of listed stocks are outstanding, no more than in 1940.

3. Comparatively little speculation is now going on in stocks. In 1929 the stock transactions on the N. Y. Stock Exchange equalled the total national income; but in 1946 these transactions were less than 20 per cent of the total national income.

4. Purchases now are possible only for 75 per cent cash. This keeps weak people out of the market and theoretically should prevent too severe market breaks.

5. Banks now pay no interest on checking accounts and only 1 to 1 1/2 per cent on savings accounts; while Governments average less than 2 1/2 per cent. Hence, to get from 3 to 4 per cent one must buy stocks. This should tend to stabilize safe income-paying stocks.

6. The monthly purchases by investment companies amounting to $50,000,000 should be a market stabilizer. This, however, is only about

5 per cent of the total monthly N. Y. Stock Exchange transactions.

7. Corporations whose securities are listed on the N. Y. Stock Exchange have the greatest cash reserves in their history—huge sums. Many have also large backlogs of unfilled consumer orders.

8. Wage increases will give the masses more spending money. This especially should help merchandizing companies.

9. President Truman can balance the Federal budget in 1947-48 if he so desires and could also reduce taxes. This should stabilize the markets and restore much confidence. The only uncertainty would be a severe drought or a very bad foreign situation.

10. The improved political outlook. The new Congress is determined to reduce expenses, cut income taxes and amend the labor laws to treat fairly all interests. There may never be a real solution to the labor problems; but Congress can very much improve the present unfair situation.

Conclusions: Considering these ten reasons for higher stock prices, why does the market continue to drift around? Why are people now timid to buy for permanent investment and income? Millions would be content with a fair rate of interest with safety, irrespective of whether the market goes up or down, were it not for some hidden reason which I now will explain.

Strikes—Communism—Morals
We have witnessed the use of old-fashioned brute force in the settlement of political and labor disputes. It is this revived use of force, now apparent all over the world, which is frightening investors. Even Communism—as an economic philosophy—might not be feared if the Communists were willing to leave the question to the free vote of the people. But they use force. In fact, Communism is merely enforced Socialism, the same as fascism is enforced capitalism. Russians blame me for talking about the possibilities of World War III and questioning the success of the United Nations; but if labor, management and politicians cannot get along in this country peacefully, and leave decisions to the courts, how can we expect over 50 different races to unite and do so?

"Juvenile delinquency" which really should be known as parental delinquency is undermining confidence. Parents are responsible for the filthy picture shows, with their jungle dances; and low stuff that was not even allowed in saloons a decade ago. We parents are responsible for the bad radio programs from which our children learn of the doings of the underworld gangsters, cowboys and petty burglars. Even our magazines, in their stories and illustrations, appear to be lowering their standards by featuring drinking, carousing and the like. Modern "art" does not bother me, but with "sensible" people buying such crazy pictures it is not surprising that too many conservative investors are bearish on everything!

Wife Missing For 18 Years; Husband Secures Divorce

MERCER, Pa., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Mrs. Gertrude Tarsilia, 49, who went to the fair at Stoneboro, Pa., in 1929 and didn't return until last fall, could explain where she was for four of those years, but her husband, Amedeo, won his divorce, anyway.

He said that after she left for the fair, he didn't hear from her until she was in Greece, where she fell into the hands of the Germans during the war.

She spent four years in a prison camp before being liberated by American troops.

She has been employed at a tavern near Grove City since her homecoming. Her husband operates a farm near Jackson Center.

Old people need plenty of protein in their diet. They need companionship and religion and sympathy and a little boxing now and then.

Old people are usually not quite so fortunate. They need special care too. They are usually some what handicapped. They are sometimes neglected by themselves and other people.

We should all be interested in the care of old people because we will be old some day ourselves. At least we hope to live a good while.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

BOISTEROUS GIRLS

"I am a public school teacher of a class of girls in their early teens. I constantly lecture them on the propriety of street behavior for I have noticed that school girls are sometimes boisterous and ill-mannered when they travel in groups. Won't you give some suggestions on this subject?"

Answer: We must make allowances for the effervescence of youth but this should not be an excuse for loud, uncouth manners. There is nothing more irritating than a group such as you describe walking four abreast, making people step aside for them, talking and laughing boisterously. They too often brush against others, push their way through crowds, ridicule anyone who does not come up to their standards of beauty and smartness. Fortunately, they are in the minority. I think most young girls realize that femininity is an accompaniment of refinement and that youthful vivacity is vastly different from uncouth, rough behavior.

There is something very appealing about a teen-age girl who has poise and consideration for those older and less fortunate than she. The public schools should have a course in social training for the youngsters whose home life does not include this important asset so necessary in after-school days. Why not suggest such a course in your own school. It might sweep the country like a storm and make life more comfortable for all of us. After all, it is just as important as the phases of purely mental development on which so much time is spent.

OLD AND YOUNG

The very young and the very old seem to need special care. We are likely to give good care to the babies. They are cute and cunning. They appeal to our sympathies. They usually get the best care available even though it may not always be good care.

The luxury tax extension will raise an estimated one billion 130 million dollars in the next fiscal year.

Cut Too Slight
In the House, Rep. Engel (R) Mich., assailed as "altogether too slight" the graduated income tax cut proposed by Rep. Allen (R) Ill. Allen's plan would give the low-income group a 20 per cent cut and cut taxes in higher brackets by 17 and one-half, 15, and 10 per cent.

Engel proposed instead a bill that would increase exemptions, especially for persons with incomes of $5,000 or lower.

He asserted the Allen plan should be scrapped along with the 20 per cent across-the-board program of Rep. Knutsen (R) Minn., chairman of the tax-writing ways and means committee.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—Fifteen thousand Boy Scouts from the southeastern area of Pennsylvania will participate in the annual pilgrimage to Valley Forge Saturday, February 22, the State Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau has been informed. Each year on the anniversary of General George Washington's birthday the boys make a pilgrimage to the Continental Army's winter encampment site, but this year arrangements have been made that a larger group than ever before will visit this historic shrine and participate in the exercises. ## Protests Order On Correspondents

Newspaper Publisher Delegate On
Balkan Commission Protests
Muzzling Of Press

ATHENS, Jan. 7.—(INS)—Mark Ethridge, prominent newspaper publisher and U. S. delegate on the United Nations Balkan commission, protested today against an order restricting accompanying correspondents to report on commission activities.

Ethridge made his complaint at a closed meeting of the commission which now is sitting in Athens to plan an on-the-spot investigation of Greek border incidents.

The press regulation forbids correspondents, who will go with the investigators, to report anything other than the commission actions, if so ordered by the country in which they happened to be. The penalty for any violation would be revocation of the offending correspondent's credentials.

New Instructions
(In New York, George Barnes, chief U. N. press officer, said new instructions are being sent to the commission that it can lift the restriction, if it so desires, but that the commission will have to assume responsibility if newsmen are denied access to prohibited areas.)

(Barnes denied there had been an overall filing ban on correspondents but admitted that local restrictions could be applied at will by affected governments.)

(He said that none of the governments—Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Hungary or Greece—had invoked the prohibition as yet.)

(The original instructions providing for a flat ban on extraneous coverage was amended by cable on Jan. 24, Barnes said.)

Will Quiz Nurses On Many Problems

Questionnaire To Sound Out Women
On Many Problems Of Their Profession

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—Approximately 7000 questionnaires have been sent to registered nurses in Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia as the first step in a fact-finding survey being conducted by the bureau of labor statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, and the National Nursing Council.

The survey is being made to obtain facts about salaries, hours, working conditions and job attitudes, and the nurses have been asked to express themselves to an impartial group on how they feel about their work. The bureau estimated there are about 55,000 registered nurses in Pennsylvania, 1800 in Delaware, 7200 in Maryland and 5100 in the District of Columbia. One out of every ten nurses on the official state lists received questionnaires, thus assuring an adequate cross section representation.

The results of the survey will be edited by the Philadelphia office of BLS and will be used to provide the basis for standards and changes to be made in working conditions, such as type of supervision, vacation and sick leave and tenure of positions.

In addition to use of questionnaires, BLS officials will interview some of the nurses who have left the profession to enter other fields, to ascertain reasons for the change. When the findings have been tabulated, they will be made available to all groups responsible for maintaining adequate nursing service.

State Police Use New Radio Service

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—The Pennsylvania state police now have 80 patrol cars equipped with three-way radio in regular operation on the highways, state police headquarters announced today.

The cars, as well as 20 troop headquarters and sub-stations, are served by twelve 250-watt land stations recently installed. They are part of the system which, when completed, will number 73 land stations and 250 radio-equipped patrol cars blanketing the entire state.

Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, state police commissioner, said that the system is being installed as rapidly as permitted by the availability of equipment.

Less than half of U. S. World War II military personnel was stationed in combat zones, exposed to possible enemy action.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7.—(INS)—A copper-haired beauty with green eyes named Hazel Brooks thinks she can prove a career and marriage can mix in Hollywood.

She said: "There may be difficulties, but I'm sure that all of them can be overcome."

Hazel recently signed a seven-year contract with Enterprise and is now playing her first big role in "Body and Soul." She is the wife of Cedric Gibbons, supervising art director of MGM.

Might Be Trouble
"I can see where there might be trouble when a husband and wife have careers," she said. "They may both come home in the evening tired, but that shouldn't necessarily mean trouble."

She is 22, five feet 7 1/2-inches tall and weighs an even 120 pounds.

Is Former Model
Hazel was discovered by MGM Producer Arthur Freed in New York City where she was a model. She was 17 then.

She remained under contract to MGM for two long years.

"And in that time I didn't do a darned thing," said Hazel. "Finally I went to the studio talent expert, Billy Grady, and asked him to give me something to do. That didn't do me any good so I quit."

A couple of years ago, after she married Gibbons, she gave up all thoughts of a career.

Signs Long Contract
Then a few months back Bill Selwyn, Enterprise casting director, who'd been at MGM, remembered Hazel and asked her to take a small part in "Arch of Triumph." The studio boss, Charlie Einfeld, was so impressed with her work, he gave her an exhaustive test and then signed her to a long contract.

Hazel isn't sure whether she wants to be a big movie star.

She said: "I'll know when I see how I turn out in this picture. If I click, I'll probably want to become a star. If I don't I probably won't."

Governor Duff

Sincere Speaker

Gains Much Respect From Meetings With Groups At State Capital

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The sincerity shown by Gov. James H. Duff in his speeches to various private organizations holding meetings at the state capital has won for him much respect from his audiences. Newsmen, covering Duff's speeches have found that the sandy-haired chief executive leaves his audiences almost spellbound. His blunt, straight-forward way of presenting a point leaves no doubt as to his position on the subject he is discussing. He often apologizes to his audiences for speaking so long but draws chuckles from his listeners when he explains he made so many speeches during the 1946 campaign that he is good form.

Duff has another courtesy which impresses audiences. When he enters a room while a meeting is in progress, he usually tells the chairman he would like to listen to the discussion for a short time. He is then able to discuss the group's problems and recommend solutions.

A large Linden tree south of the state museum in Capital Park has been uprooted and removed by department of property and supplies workers. During the course of the project, many "sidewalk superintendents" were on hand to witness the work. Removal of trees from Capitol Park or work on the exterior of the various buildings always attracts scores of spectators.

Workmen have begun erecting a wooden covering for the sculptured figures at the central entrance to the main capitol building to help preserve them from the rigors of winter. The world famous statuary, sculptured shortly after the turn of the century by George Grey Barnard, a native of Bellefonte, have been damaged by the weather. Deputy Secretary of Property and Supplies Frank Hoffman explained that some of the statues have been cracked and water freezing in the breaks caused additional damage. He explained that four or five weeks would be required to complete the wooden covering. In the spring, a preservative fluid will be applied to help prevent further damage, Hoffman. One group of statues represents the spiritual burdens carried by man while the other depicts humanity advancing through the inspiration of work and brotherhood. Barnard sculptured the statuary out of Italian Carrara marble in France. The statuary which cost more than $100,000 was dedicated in 1911. Barnard, born in 1863, died nine years ago and is buried in Harrisburg.

Few persons realize it but Gov. James H. Duff is always under close scrutiny of state policemen when he speaks at a public meeting. Several troopers in plainclothes accompany Duff to the meetings and always assume advantageous positions in the rooms where they watch every movement of the audience.

Reports have been circulating at the state house that James A. Kell of New Alexandria, secretary of forests and waters during the administration of ex-Gov. Edward Martin may be named to a high state post. Kell has been mentioned as a possible appointee to the state liquor control board.

County Highways Reported Clear

All roads in the county highway system are open, it was reported today by Fred Martin, County Highway department superintendent, and unless a high wind develops, it will not be necessary to take out the snow plows.

Cinderling crews have been active since 6:30 a. m. today ashing the grades of the roads throughout the county in order to keep the cars and trucks moving.

Freshmen Will Register At Westminster Monday And Tuesday For Second Semester

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 7.—Ten days of final examinations at Westminster College will end at noon Saturday. Freshmen will register for the second semester Monday and Tuesday in the basement of the U. P. churches with classes scheduled to start Wednesday morning.

Many of the upper-classmen completed exams Thursday and immediately left for brief visits to their homes. They registered two weeks ago for the second semester and will not have to return to campus until Tuesday afternoon or evening. Little change in the total enrollment of approximately 1300 students is expected.

Renew Questioning Of Man In Case Of Mystery Slaying

PORT DIX, N. J., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Joseph Dumais, bushy haired army military policeman, was to be questioned again today about the "Black Dahlia" murder of Elizabeth Short in Los Angeles.

Dumais, 29, thrice married volunteered the information he had a "date" with the murdered girl on Jan. 9. Her body cut in two was found Jan. 15, and physicians estimated she had been killed the night before.

Army officers were checking records which showed that Dumais had been at Port Dix Jan. 11. It was admitted that the records might not prove accurate.

Los Angeles authorities were reported en route to Port Dix to question Dumais who said he had "blacked out" during his "date" with the "Black Dahlia" and failed to recall anything until he arrived at Pennsylvania station Jan. 15.

Labor Government In Great Britain Faces Accusations

Anthony Eden Charges Misjudgment Of Coal Crisis By Government

By JOHN CAMSELL (L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Anthony Eden charged today that the labor government's misjudgment of the coal crisis and lack of foresight has confronted Britain with the "greatest economic crisis in 20 years."

The former foreign secretary, a conservative, opened debate in the house of commons on the coal shortage.

Sources within the conservative party assert that the government is especially worried over the labor dissenters, whose constituencies are in Britain's big industrial areas.

Latest estimates place the number of unemployed resulting from the coal scarcity at 178,000, concentrated in the midlands, the northwest, and northeast areas.

Meanwhile, Emanuel Shirewell, minister of food and fuel, ordered a halt to the loading of bunker coal in foreign-bound ships. The measure means a temporary slash of 50 per cent of the nation's foreign trade.

CLEANING FLUID HAZARD

Housewives are cautioned by Safety Research institute to make sure that there is plenty of ventilation, even if the job will only take a little while.

Conclude Two-Day Seminar Of Pastors

Luncheon At Noon Today Terminates Study Period Of Shenango-Butler Presbytery Ministers

Luncheon at noon brought to a close today the two-day Seminar of the 26 ministers of Shenango and Butler Presbyteries at The Castleton hotel, where they have been assembled since Thursday morning, discussing ways and means of strengthening the Presbyterian mode of worship and other rituals in connection with the churches of the area.

The ministers in their open forum discussion spoke frankly on the problems that have arisen in their churches. Guiding their actions was the "Book of Common Worship" of the Presbyterian church, which served as a text during the period.

On the speaking and teaching program of the period were Dr. Hugh Thompson Kerr, former pastor of Shady Side Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh; Dr. Claude S. Conley, executive secretary of the Synod of Pennsylvania, and Dr. Walter Barlow, director of Faith and Life Seminar of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian church.

The seminar, which is conducted by the Synod of Pennsylvania in conjunction with the Pitcairn-Crabbe Foundation, is an innovation in this area and it is anticipated by the church leaders of the two Presbyteries, to make it an annual feature.

Relocation of Road In North
Beaver Township Up At March Term

OTHER NEWS OF
COURT HOUSE

Listed for presentation to the Lawrence County Court on Wednesday, March 5, is the report of the relocation of a small portion of the Small's Ferry Public Road in North Beaver township. The relocation is about one-eighth of a mile in length.

Some time ago a portion of this road was abandoned to permit the quarry force of the Republic Steel Corporation to remove the limestone underlying the road and the immediate vicinity. Upon getting into the stone the Republic found it was not suited for the particular purpose wanted and they abandoned the quarrying.

The relocated road was upon property owned by the Metropolitan Paving Brick company but this company agreed to the relocation.

The supervisors proposed to continue the use of the new portion of road and all damages have been waived. The Republic Steel Corporation has paid $4500 to reimburse the supervisors for their work in relocation.

4405 DOG TAGS

The sale of dog tags seems to run in spurts. For a week or two the sale is off and then suddenly owners decide they had better get their booth licensed. As of Thursday, February 6, there had been 4405 dog licenses issued with the probability that nearly twice as many are running around without the tags necessary.

BRAHAM (JR.) STARS

Walter Braham, son of Judge and Mrs. W. Walter Braham, seems destined for some publicity in a field other than that occupied by his dad. In a recent swimming meet between Mercersburg Academy and the Annapolis Plebes, young Braham finished first for the Mercersburg team in the backstroke. The meet was held in the tank of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

CHANGE PRIMARY DATE

There seems little doubt that the present session of the General Assembly will change the date of this year's primary from June to September. A survey of legislators of over 20 counties shows all of them favorable to the restoring of the date to the early fall.

Odd year primaries were held in the fall for many years. In order to accommodate the men and women in service the primary was set for June as a temporary measure but 1947 was included in the act. The idea of setting the primary in June was to give the service men and women plenty of time to get their ballots in from overseas for the November election. If the change is made, and it must be made soon to obviate the signing of petitions in March, it will not be necessary to secure signatures to candidates' petitions until the summer.

Suggestions On State Sales Tax

Need For Additional State
Revenue Is Evident In Pennsylvania

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The need for additional state revenues to carry out the many projects requested by the public has prompted some assemblymen to predict that a sales tax would be approved by the 1947 Session of the General Assembly. A few legislators have expressed the belief that the levy would be no more than two per cent. It was estimated unofficially by some lawmakers that a sales tax would yield the Commonwealth between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000 a biennium. Gov. James H. Duff has emphasized that he would have no tax recommendations until he has been informed of the overall financial picture by a legislative committee.

While a sales tax has been regarded as unpopular, some proponents expressed the idea that sufficient legislators would back the proposal if they are told bluntly by leaders that it would be the best method of raising the needed money to insure that the programs will be carried out. There has not been much talk among legislators about a state income tax.

Speaker of the House Franklin H. Lichtenwalter took a slight jab at his colleagues during a recent session when many of them persisted in snapping binders of their bill holders, making it almost impossible to hear the chair. Lichtenwalter banged his gavel and said: "Children will please pay attention."

Senators have complained of the inability to hear their colleagues making speeches on the floor of the upper chamber because of the somewhat ineffective public address system. Members of the upper chamber passed a motion, made by Sen. George B. Stevenson (R) Clinton, requesting that the Department of Property and Supplies install an improved system.

A measure has been introduced by Sen. John G. Snowden (R) Lycoming, proposing that the song "Pennsylvania," by Gertrude Martin Rohrer, be made the official song of the Commonwealth. Earlier, Sen. George N. Wade (R) Cumberland, sponsored a bill requesting that the song be made the state anthem.

Newsmen assigned to cover Capitol Hill have been pleased with Gov. James H. Duff's news conferences. The new chief executive, a blunt, straight-forward man, leans back in his swivel chair and announces additional details on his proposed programs in a rapid-fire manner.

A further check of dictionaries by a newsman has disclosed several additional meanings of the word duff. One definition was "a stiff flour pudding boiled in a bag."

LI. Gov. Daniel B. Strickler, of Lancaster, has won the respect of the members of the Senate in his short time as presiding officer of the upper chamber. Strickler, a brigadier general in the Pennsylvania National Guard, has guided the deliberations of the 50-member Senate very smoothly. Some assemblymen have commented that Strickler leads the Senate "like a veteran" despite the brief period he has been in office. He served overseas with the State's 28th Division during both World Wars and commanded the 110th Infantry Regiment during the Battle of the Bulge in the latter conflict.

Stassen Gives Labor Program

Presents Labor Reform Program To Senate Labor Committee Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Harold E. Stassen, the GOP's only announced presidential candidate, gave congress a 10-point labor reform program today based upon "self-restraint and self-discipline" by both management and workers. The former Minnesota governor warned the senate labor committee against going "too far" by outlawing the closed shop or industry-wide bargaining. Likewise he opposed compulsory arbitration, labor courts or drafting strikers into the armed forces.

Stassen endorsed the idea of banning jurisdictional strikes, secondary boycotts and unionization of supervisory employees. Made To Committee

The young Republican's statement was made to a committee headed by Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, one of the strongest potential candidates for the Republican nomination in 1948. While the house labor committee continued its own parallel labor hearings, Stassen urged the senators to authorize a continuing study of labor relations and proposed "government assistance in weeding out subversive elements in labor leadership."

He recommended a slow-down against strikes or lockouts whereby a 40-day period of negotiation would precede a final secret strike vote. Only a majority of the employees in a bargaining unit could authorize a walkout. Stassen said:

"I cannot urge too strongly that our main reliance in the relationship between labor and capital, if we are to continue as a resilient free economy, must be upon the exercise of self-restraint and self-discipline by both."

Wayward Youth Aided By Small Scale Boystown

MONUMENT, Colo.—(INS)—A small-scale "Boys Town" to care for delinquent boys who would otherwise be confined to a state correctional institution, is underway near Monument.

The Pikes Peak academy now has a residential building as its only plant, purchased by the superintendent, Thomas Calkins, in his own name. It is supported by public subscriptions and conducted on a non-denominational basis.

The board of directors hope the program will expand to provide additional land and buildings and eventually care for 150 boys.

First Charge

Their first charge is a Pueblo youth, who was arrested in Canon City after stealing and wrecking an automobile. Pueblo County Judge Hubert Glover, in sending the boy to Calkin's care, said:

"I have always felt the need for an intermediate rehabilitation facility—something to set boys on the right track without carrying any sense of being a prisoner. This may be what I am looking for."

The institution plans a program of careful schooling and adherence to Father Flanagan's Boys Town doctrine that, "There is no such thing as a bad boy."

Canadian Divorces Hit Record Level

OTTAWA, Ont.—Canadians are spending more than $1,250,000 this year in court and legal fees in the greatest trek to the divorce courts the nation has ever witnessed.

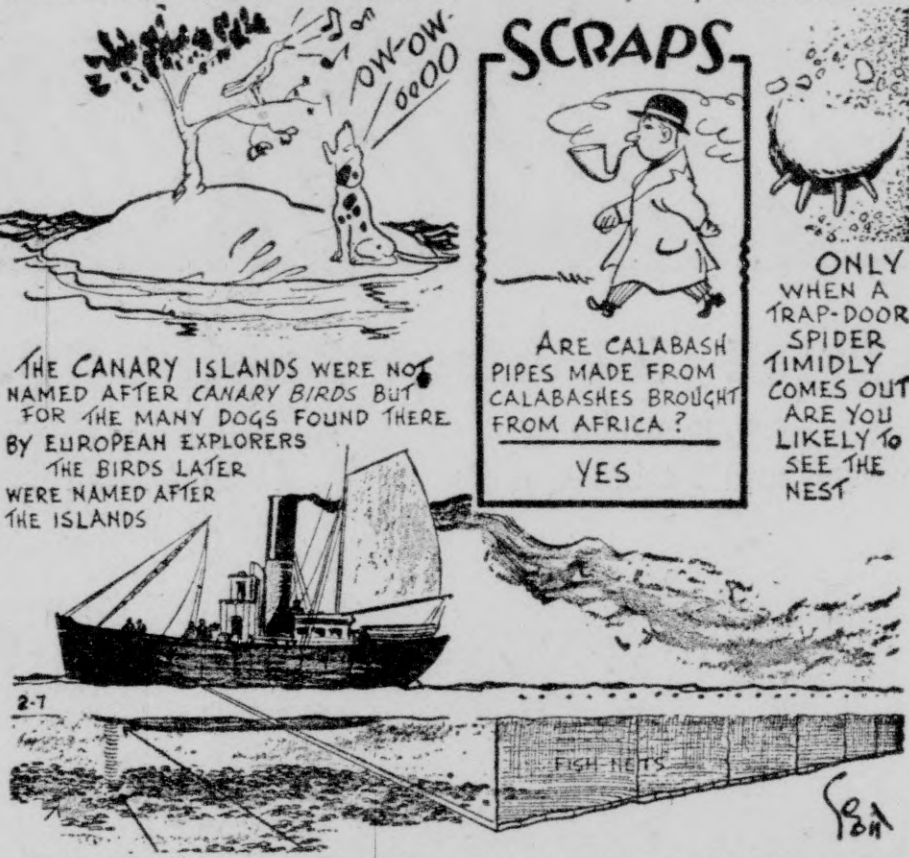

Already, the number of divorces in six leading provinces has passed the total for all nine provinces last year, and indications are that each province will report record figures when all returns have been tabulated.

While the number of marriages in Canada reached an all-time peak in 1942 during the war years, the number of divorces this year is expected to be more than double the number then. Preliminary reports point to a final total for this year of 6,500 to 7,000 divorces, compared with approximately 5,000 in 1945 and 3,000 in 1942. Each will cost the applicant about $200 in legal fees.

San Francisco Cable Cars May Be On Way Out

Colorful Trolleys, Long Landmark Of Coast City, May Be Re-placed Is Report

SAN FRANCISCO.—(INS)—A Big argument is building up over the question of whether the cost of maintaining San Francisco's colorful old cable cars is outweighed by their attraction to tourists. For years these mementos of a Victorian age have grumbled, clanged and creaked up and down San Francisco's steep hills. They have outlasted trolleys, electric buses.

But the atomic age, with its soaring labor and maintenance costs, is threatening their continued existence.

Caught in economic straits is the city's only remaining privately-operated line, the California Street Cable Railway, whose gripmen and conductors are seeking higher wages. It is indicated that a proposal to take over the private cable line will be submitted to voters next spring by city officials.

An official of the city public utilities commission said that although the California line would be a losing proposition for the city, this could be written off as an advertising value for San Francisco. But, he added ominously, if it is proven their value as a tourist attraction no longer exists, well, it's the junk yards for all the old cable cars.

Vet Gets Wallet He Lost In 1944

WEST ORANGE, N. J.—Police Chief Harry H. Hain said today a search of more than two years for a soldier who lost a wallet while passing through Fort Dix in 1944 was ended, and the purse and $36 forwarded to Robert L. Gilbert of Greenville, Miss.

Hain said the wallet was found in West Orange by Thomas Regan of this town and efforts to reach Gilbert by use of his serial number through army channels were started. Meanwhile, Gilbert was shipped to Europe, saw action in France and Germany as a sergeant, and returned to his home.

Last week, Hain said, the ex-soldier sent to police a copy of his discharge papers and description of the wallet. The wallet and money order for $36 were forwarded to Gilbert today.

Ancient Wall Clue To Norse Landing

PROVINCETOWN, Mass.—Some 50 communities along the New England coast claim to have evidence that they were landing places for the Norsemen around 1000 A. D.

One such bit of evidence is a strange wall discovered on Chip Hill here in the mid-19th century. While building a house, workmen uncovered a red wall, the mortar for which contained fish bones.

Some local historians theorize that the wall was built from ballast taken ashore by Leif Ericson's vessel to build a fort as protection against the natives.

The wall is known variously as Norsemen's Fireplace and Norsemen's Fort.

With New Castle Afro-Americans

Senior Home Missionary society of Union Baptist church will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Emma Moore, West State street, Tuesday evening, February 11, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. E. Mrs. Catherine Engs, delegate to the recent missionary mass meeting in Youngstown, O., gave a report. Lunch was served by Mrs. Smith.

Cop Finally Nabs Elusive 'Kilroy'

Valley Forge Policeman Catches Legendary Figure Defacing Stage Property

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Cpl. Joseph A. Garnett, Valley Forge Park policeman, was satisfied today that he had caught up with "Kilroy."

His meeting with the famed but mysterious personage who signed his name across the globe during World War II resulted from a rampage of vandalism in historic military reservation.

Garnett arrested a youth caught in the act of defacing stage property on the site of George Washington's winter headquarters during the Revolutionary War. In his routine report, Garnett explained:

Closer Examination

"Upon closer examination I noticed this youth had written the words 'Kilroy' was here."

"I immediately questioned the youth regarding this and he admitted that he wrote it."

"Then I told him that I had followed him all over Europe, across the Atlantic, through the Processing Buildings at separation centers of the army, to Valley Forge—a most appropriate place to meet him."

"At last I had caught up with him."

Small Corry Child Dies In Home Fire

CORRY, Pa., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Firemen today blamed an overheated stove for the fire which took the life of a small Corry child and sent two others to a hospital suffering from exposure and shock.

Mrs. Prudence Silvis, 28, of Corry saved the two children from death by dropping them from a second story window. She then jumped to safety as flames gutted her home. Mrs. Silvis was burned on the face and arms.

Mrs. Silvis was unable to save a son, Larry, two and a half, before she leaped from the window. She dropped her five-year-old daughter, Rose Lynn, into a snow bank. Neighbors caught her seven-month-old niece, Margaret Ruffner.

Tells How Much Grasshopper Eats

LARAMIE, Wash., Feb. 7.—(INS)—For centuries, the grasshopper has been one of the biggest headaches for farmers all over the world.

It is commonly acknowledged that this type of insect is a pest and a real danger to crops in some areas. The question, however, of just how much food a grasshopper consumes was until recently, merely a matter for speculation. The question has now been answered by R. E. Pfadt, entomologist at the Laramie, Wyo., Experiment Station.

Careful Study

Pfadt, after a careful study of the feeding habits of the common range grasshopper, reported that, if the number of insects was 35 per square yard, they would consume 792 pounds of forage per acre during one season.

If there are 25 to the square yard, the high jumping bugs will eat 489 pounds per acre, and 15 per yard will devour food at a rate of 406 pounds per acre.

CHINA MAPS PLAN

FOR FOUR AIR ROUTES

SHANGHAI—The official Chinese News Agency reported that the government was planning four separate airlines to link China with America, Europe, the Philippines and Siam.

It said one route would be from Shanghai to New York via Guam, Wake, Honolulu, San Francisco and Washington; the second from Shanghai to Paris via Canton, Hongkong, Hanoi, Bangkok, Calcutta, Delhi, Tehran, Ankara and Athens; the third from Shanghai to Manila via Amoy, Swatow, Canton and Hongkong, and the fourth, duplicating part of the route to the second, from Shanghai to Bangkok via Canton, Hongkong and Hanoi.

Operation dates depend on several factors, notably financing, the agency said.

Rabbit fur, after processing, may be known by any of these names: Coney, lapin, French seal, French beaver, ermine, near seal, polar seal, marmotine, erminette or squirreline.

Radar Is Now Used To Forecast Rains

CHICAGO—Radar now is being used to determine when and where rain will fall and probable size of the raindrops. University of Wisconsin soil expert said.

R. J. Muckenhirn, professor of soil at the university's college of agriculture, told the first annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America that radar, soil binders and DDT, all produced by wartime research, have proven aids in fighting soil erosion and improving crop variety.

He said radar indicates not only the place and time that rain can be expected, but how much can be expected.

New meteorological instruments to extend "our knowledge of the influence on climate" are being designed and tested, he said. DDT and other low-cost insecticides might make possible production of alfalfa in areas where insects now prevent pollination.

Press Probe Of A-Bomb Spying

House Committee Seeks Connection Of U. S. Communists With Ring In Canada

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS).—The House Un-American Activities committee today planned to press an investigation into connections of Communists in the United States with the Soviet atomic bomb spy ring uncovered in Canada.

The renewed effort to investigate Communist espionage activities in the United States came in the wake of committee testimony establishing the strongest link yet uncovered between known participants in the Canadian ring, and high members of the "party" in this country.

One committee member disclosed that the Canadian government has expressed an "interest" in the committee's activities.

The member, Rep. Mundt (R) S. D. said, "The Canadian government is interested that we follow through on our atom bomb investigation."

'Link' Uncovered

The "link" was uncovered when Louis Budenz, former Communist who returned to Catholicism, testified that Samuel Carr, a Communist organizer who is now a fugitive from the Canadian government, sought on "numerous" occasions to contact Gerhard Eisler in the United States.

Eisler, a self-admitted Communist, was described in a report by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, as a "figure of paramount importance in determining Communist policy... (who) may be involved in intelligence work."

Eisler, identified by Budenz and by his own sister, as key representative of the Communist Internationale in the United States, faced serious charges after he failed to testify under a subpoena before the committee.

Already under arrest under a presidential warrant, charging him with being an enemy alien, he now faces additional charges of contempt of Congress, perjury, plotting to overthrow the government of the United States, income tax evasion, and falsification of passport.

Justice department sources indicated that Eisler would be brought to speedy trial on the charges, turned over to the department by unanimous action of the House Un-American Activities committee.

Eisler failed to take the witness stand after the committee refused to permit him to make a preliminary statement.

Paper Charges Scientist Aided Russian Espionage

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(INS).—The New York Journal-American said today that an American scientist, who was a member of a Russian espionage ring in which Gerhardt Eisler was an important figure, now is teaching at a Brooklyn private school.

The paper added that this scientist and a dozen other members of the Moscow spy network are still at liberty although Eisler, charged yesterday by a congressional committee with plotting to overthrow the U. S. government, is under arrest.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, told the House committee on un-American activities that Eisler, who first came to this country in 1933 as a Soviet agent, associated with people strongly suspected of Soviet espionage.

On December 4, 1945, the New York Journal-American revealed that Arthur Adams, head of Stalin's super-agent espionage network set up in America to steal the atom bomb, used a German-born Communist living in Queens as "courier" for the spy ring.

At that time the paper knew the man was Gerhardt Eisler and had information showing that the FBI had been trailing him since 1943.

Make Plea For Showdown On Disarmament

By ED ALLEN

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate to the United Nations, considered today a small powers' plea that he invite Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko to a private, face-to-face showdown on disarmament.

The possibility that such a tête-à-tête may occur was seen when a source close to Austin said "there is a very good chance" he will take the initiative by inviting Gromyko. Gromyko told the conferees in the Empire State building last night he is willing "if it will do any good".

Whether the two-power session is held or not, the conferees—Colombia, France, Australia, United States and USSR, with Belgium's Fernald Van Lagenhove sitting in as chairman—will meet again at 3 p. m.

They will try to agree on a resolution under which the security council can name a new commission to study proposals for world arms cuts and controls.

Principal Stumbling Block
Principal stumbling block has been the inability of the Russians and Americans to agree on language preserving the rights of the atomic energy commission.

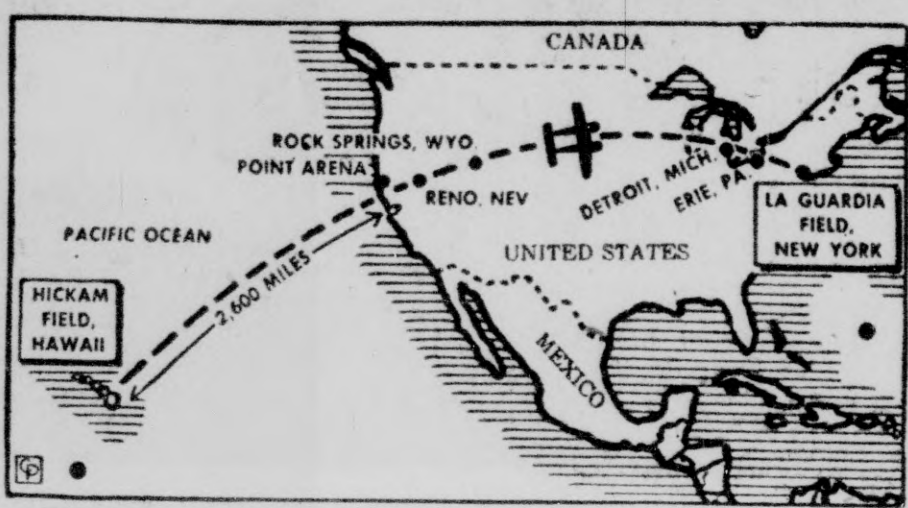

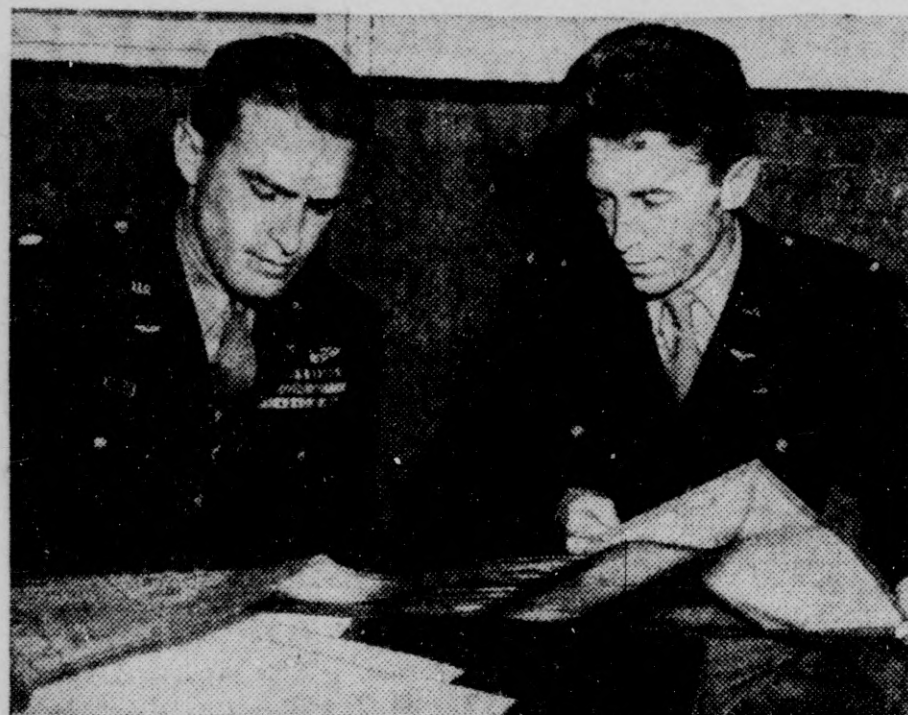

A Colombian compromise designed to overcome Gromyko's charge that the American draft is "repetitious" was introduced at yesterday's meeting.

It came closer to winning Gromyko's approval than the others, although he did not commit himself finally.

Otherwise, the conferees agreed on a preamble and the first two points of a four-paragraph resolution. One of these calls on the atomic commission to report to the security council as soon as possible.

The arms reduction body's time limit for proposals is more explicit—three months.

Dunlap Says Juvenile Delinquency Low Here

While some other cities are attempting to solve the problem of juvenile delinquency, it is not a big problem here, mainly because of the cooperation of judges, county and city and school officials, church organizations, Red Cross, Salvation army, department of public assistance and parents.

In fact, J. M. Dunlap, probation officer, has forwarded to officials a letter in which he thanks them for their cooperation during 1946 and stated:

"I am pleased with present accomplishments gained through the help cooperation and assistance given me."

Record Achievement
And in his message, Mr. Dunlap points out a record achievement, which is:

For the first time in 40 years, there is not one boy or girl, in the positive, absolute juvenile age group, in my institution, and only one in the 16-18 age group in an institution.

Going back to 1926, his letter cites there were 55 inmates of the city and county in Morganza—hence there has been a vast improvement in the past 20 years.

Most of the churches have activities for the young and this, plus parental control, no doubt, has done much to curb delinquency, as has the Mayor's Recreation Project committee and the City Recreation commission.

Recreation Work
In the city, the City Recreation commission, through appropriations from tax monies the city and school directors operate playgrounds and various sports during summer, fall and winter.

The Mayor's Recreation committee, directed by representatives from every ward in the city, and operated by funds raised at first by donations and promotions, has a recreation center and busy program for young people.

During the summer there is bathing in Neshannock pool and dancing in City hall and twice a week at Cascade park. During the winter there is skating at Mahoning rink and activities almost nightly in the recreation center.

It is a truism that some years ago it was not unusual to see a dozen or more young boys in the mayor's 'informal' court every Saturday for some minor offense or act beyond the mischief.

In recent months there has been an absence of a necessity to hold an 'informal' court, or what may more appropriately be described as a problem to find out who done what, why and how it could be avoided in the future.

Opposition To Lilienthal Is Seen In Senate

By FRANK B. ALLEN

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—One Republican senator today labeled David Lilienthal "A New Deal Socialist" and a second announced he will oppose the former TVA chairman as the nation's atomic energy chief.

Senate floor opposition to Lilienthal began to take shape as Sen. McKellar (D. Tenn.), continued his feud with the former TVA chairman before atomic committee senators.

McKellar summoned L. D. Bolt of Knoxville, Tenn., declaring that Bolt could tell of "Communist leanings" in high places in the TVA setup.

Also scheduled as a witness today was Dr. Karl Compton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, famed scientist called by the committee to give his views on the appointees and their program.

Will Continue Fight
As McKellar announced that he will carry his fight to the Senate floor, Sen. Robertson (R. Wyo.) said he expects to vote against Lilienthal on grounds that the former TVA official's views are Socialistic.

At the same time, Sen. Bridges (R. N.H.), for years a critic of TVA's fiscal policies, also said he will oppose confirmation of the atomic commission chairman's appointment.

Robertson declared: "Lilienthal is based on the Socialistic idea that the government must own and run everything. 'He is a New Deal Socialist.'"

Robertson said he does not share McKellar's view that Lilienthal has "Communist leanings," but opposes him only for his public ownership views.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R. Iowa), atomic committee chairman, said he hopes to get reports on the commission appointees to the Senate floor within 10 days. He expects hearings to continue into next week.

Driver Loses His License For Life

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 7.—Loss of the right to drive an automobile the rest of his life, was the ruling Judge David Jenkins handed down yesterday to Walter Davidson, Sr., 66, who struck and fatally injured a three-year-old child.

Davidson, who was driving a car, was charged with manslaughter in the child's tragic death.

Besides ordering Davidson's driver's license revoked permanently, Judge Jenkins placed him on probation for a year. Davidson escaped a possible one to two-year sentence.

Death came instantly to the child, when she and her mother, Mrs. Dominic Pescitani of 164 Hilton avenue, attempted to cross Lois Court at Pyatt street. Davidson was unable to stop his truck, which, police charged, had defective brakes.

His vehicle ran over the child, crushing her and injuring the mother. Davidson pleaded guilty to charges of second degree manslaughter in the girl's tragic death.

Besides ordering Davidson's driver's license revoked permanently, Judge Jenkins placed him on probation for a year. Davidson escaped a possible one to two-year sentence.

Fire Is Fatal To Chicago Woman

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Fire department officials today sought the cause of a fire in a three-story apartment building which cost the life of a 20-year-old woman and overcame three persons last night.

The woman was Mrs. Louis Bennett, an expectant mother, who lost her grip on a make-shift sheet ladder as she tried to slide down to safety from a third floor porch railing.

She was killed instantly. Her husband, Paul, 25, a taxicab driver; his sister, Mrs. Gladys McCann, 43, and Mrs. W. M. Panker, 42, were overcome by smoke and suffered from shock.

They were rescued, with four other persons, by firemen who carried them down ladders.

STOP, LOOK, REMEMBER

CITY GOLF COURSE RECEIPTS DOUBLE

Controller Makes Report Of Receipts During 1946; Other News Of City Hall

William A. Moore, controller of the city of New Castle, today delved into statistics, during a compilation of reports and pointed out that the city golf course receipts were twice as great in 1946 as they were in 1945 and that cold weather last August played havoc with Cascade Park. However, the seasons were such that the cost per capita, based on a population of 50,000, for Cascade Park was 12.2 cents and for the golf course, six cents.

CITY HALL NOTES

Mayor John F. Haven and members of city council have not yet received a list of eligibles for appointment to the city police department. Because of illness it has been necessary for Safety Director D. O. Davies to name several men to temporary positions as city policemen. Desk of the sergeant at police headquarters looks like a pattern for a crazy quilt. Beneath the glass are cards, notices and long sheets, filled with typewritten matter, containing the names, addresses and telephone numbers of officers, not only of this city, but in all of the county, courthouse attaches and other information vital, in time of necessity, to police.

Due to an arrangement between Safety Director D. O. Davies and officials of the New Castle Water company, fire hydrants are now being inspected, to eliminate as much as possible, the chance of one being frozen in time of fire.

Police received a report last night that the auto of Jack Quinby, Chevrolet coach, black, Pennsylvania license 0863N, was stolen from in front of his residence at 407 Carl street. Police are searching for the car.

City Treasurer Bernard Hanlon has commenced to shower taxpayers with their 1947 city tax statements. The blanks contain the amount of both property and personal tax. According to Mr. Hanlon, any person who desires a receipt should forward to his office a self-addressed and stamped envelope. Twenty-two thousand statements are to be mailed to residents of all eight wards.

ENRAGED POLICE DOG KILLS BOY

Fatal Attack Is Made By Dog In Back Yard Of Philadelphia Home

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—(INS)—An enraged police dog pounced on a four-year-old boy today and literally tore him to pieces before the eyes of his horrified mother. The huge animal came upon little Walter Moner as the boy was playing in the back yard of his southwest Philadelphia home.

As Mrs. Jane Moner watched from a kitchen window, the dog suddenly sprang. The mother ran screaming down the back steps, but the child was already dead.

The killer fled into an adjoining yard, the home of six-year-old Howard Blomgrun, whom the dog had bitten in the shoulder yesterday.

Albert Blomgrun, 24, a war veteran, let loose with a shotgun and wounded the animal. A passing policeman also fired with his service pistol and the dog fell dead.

At Mercy hospital today the Moner boy has suffered "the worst case of mutilation in the history of Philadelphia". The child's head, they said, was almost severed.

Can Not Block Transmission Of Inch Lines Gas

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff said today the commonwealth could not block transmission of natural gas through the big and little inch pipe lines in Pennsylvania if the fuel was moving as interstate commerce.

He emphasized that the commonwealth had authority only to regulate the flow of natural gas used within Pennsylvania's borders. "There isn't any question in my judgment that neither the state of Pennsylvania nor any other state can prevent the movement of any commodity in interstate commerce," Duff declared.

The Public Utility Commission, he added, would have to approve applications to tap the lines in the state. Duff emphasized he would do everything in his power to assure natural gas for western Pennsylvania communities which depend industrially upon the fuel.

In December, the commonwealth gave the Equitable Gas Company of Pittsburgh authority to tap the pipe lines for fuel to relieve an industrial shortage in the Pittsburgh area. The permission will expire April 30.

Heavy Crop Losses As Cold Wave Is Felt In Florida

MIAMI, Feb. 7.—Winter touched an icy finger to South Florida on Thursday and caused crop losses in the millions.

Homestead, southernmost city on the United States mainland, was white with frost as the temperature dipped to 28.8 degrees. Some 40,000 acres of winter crops in the Dade county (Miami) winter growing area wilted and died in the cold. The rich winter farmlands around Lake Okechobee in Palm Beach county also were hard hit.

Dade county's loss was estimated by County Agent Charles Steffani at several millions of dollars, and the Okechobee region's at "hundreds of thousands of dollars" by H. L. Royal of the Belle Glade Extension station.

Bronze Management Hears Union Head

William Kircher, Educational Director UAW-CIO, Speaks To Group Thursday

Speaking before management of the Johnson Bronze company, William Kircher, educational director of the U. A. W., CIO, Pennsylvania and Ohio districts, Thursday afternoon, outlined the program in which management and labor can co-operate efficiently and with a good-will relationship of the plant.

"Seward's Procedure" was the subject of Mr. Kircher's talk, when he addressed the supervisor and foremen of the Johnson Bronze company. He said: "Let there be knowledge, let there be some measure of intelligence and the amount of decency needed to establish a man as fair and honest in dealing with other men will just naturally be there."

"The union in its responsibility in the building of better relationships, recognizes the fact that all men are not perfect. This recognition is largely responsible for the program of education for which the U. A. W., CIO is internationally famous."

"In both instances the foremen (management) and employees (labor) can get along smoothly. A good understanding of the union contract is necessary, along with a knowledge by all foremen of the grievance procedure and the principles of collective bargaining."

"For the foreman or supervisor the first thing governing his reactions in dealing with organized workers is, first, the type of union with which he is dealing, and, secondly, the type of management for which he is working. Using these principles, a sound and basic program can be achieved, wherein management and labor will surely profit."

Mr. Kircher will return in a month and a setup will be established for a recreational and educational program for the children of all members, in an effort to eliminate juvenile delinquency.

BURNS LAKE, B. C.—A local rancher is about ready to give up false teeth and gum it from here out.

Murray Appeals Against Martial Law In Palestine

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the United Steelworkers, today appealed to Great Britain not to impose martial law in Palestine.

In a cablegram to Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, Murray said: "I appeal to you and to the British government not to impose martial law in Palestine. Such a policy would be dangerous in its reaction on American public opinion. The steadily deteriorating situation requires action in accord with British labor's promises to the Jews. The threat of martial law and evacuation of British women and children only increases tension and does irreparable harm. CIO recently reaffirmed its consistent policy toward Palestine and urges similar action by you."

GIRL SCOUTS

Troop 30

Girl Scout Troop 30 of Mt. Jackson met Wednesday afternoon at the school. Part of the troop was occupied with their first aid course with Mrs. James Corryea as instructor. Others spent the afternoon working on the program they will present for Westfield grange at the grange on March 2. It will be a program of folk music, dances and a playlet.

A Washington Day party and handicraft meeting will be held at the home of their leader, Mrs. Clarence Shoemaker, Saturday afternoon, Feb. 22.

The troop served a delicious spaghetti supper at Westfield Grange hall recently for the public. The girls were in charge of all decorations and serving.

Troop 3

Troop 3 met Thursday evening in the basement of First Christian church with 15 girls in attendance. The girls were taught several new games and then held Patrol Corners. Inspection was then conducted and a contest to "Stop Finger-Nail Biting" got under way. A stunt was presented by Donna Onasch's patrol. The balance of the evening was spent with the girls learning to tie a number of new knots. A valentine party will be enjoyed next Thursday evening, beginning at 7:30, with the First Class Girls in charge.

INDUSTRIALISTS URGE TAX CUT IN BRITAIN

LONDON.—The Association of British Industries recommended a substantial tax reduction, "even at the cost of temporarily unbalancing the budget," to increase production. "Greater production would make the task of achieving a balanced budget easier, but high taxation is proving a hindrance by weakening incentives," said the group, the British counterpart of the National Association of Manufacturers in the United States.

About twice as many English as Irish setters are born in the spring as in the fall and double the number of cocker spaniels are born in summer as compared to winter.

Says Russia To Discuss Return Of Leased Ships

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Assistant Secretary of State Will Clayton said today that Russia has promised to discuss return of leased ships to the United States when U. S.-Soviet talks on lend-lease begin.

Clayton is scheduled to testify before a House Merchant Marine subcommittee today on details of agreements sending 125 American vessels to Russia, which still operates 96 of the ships.

The State Department official is expected to present the subcommittee with correspondence between the Soviet and American governments involving the return of the ships to the United States.

Refused to Reply

Clayton admitted that the Russians have refused to reply to U. S. communications directly concerning redelivery of the vessel, but he said the Soviet promised to discuss the leased ships during conversations on all lend-lease operations.

Clayton also may testify further on the agreement between the U. S. and Great Britain under which 306 ships are chartered to the British for "temporary wartime duty."

Rep. Weichel (R) Ohio, chairman of the Merchant Marine group, demanded that Clayton submit all correspondence on "deals" with the Russians for lease of the ships. He described the "deals" as "a deep, dark secret."

Ohio congressmen also introduced a resolution for immediate return of all 415 American ships being operated under charter and lease agreements by Great Britain, Russia, China, Chile and Poland.

Rep. Bradley (R) Mich., already has offered legislation calling for the immediate return of the 306 ships now operated by Great Britain.

Domestic lines remained grounded. The bureau of civil aeronautics is studying safety regulations with a view to improving them before allowing domestic passenger traffic to be resumed.

NEW CASTLE LEADS IN RETAIL SALES GAIN IN STATE

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Washington Correspondent of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—New Castle led all other major Pennsylvania cities in the increase of sales by independent retailers during December as compared with November last year, according to a census bureau study.

Such sales in New Castle were 51 per cent greater in December than November, the bureau reports. In Pennsylvania as a whole, sales gained 24 per cent. The city making the nearest approach to the New Castle record was Scranton with a 31 per cent climb.

New Castle, however, lagged somewhat in the sales increase for 1946 as a whole. For the year, the gain was 24 per cent in New Castle as against 33 per cent in Pennsylvania at large. Reading, with a 42 per cent expansion topped all other major cities.

PROBE CAR SHORTAGE

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Feb. 7.—(INS)—District President C. Fremont Davis of the United Mine Workers, President George S. Brackett and Secretary Truman Johnson of the Northwestern West Virginia Coal association today were in Washington to testify at a Senate investigation of the prolonged coal shortage.

They will ask the committee to work out a solution of the car shortage which has seriously hampered West Virginia coal production for more than six months.

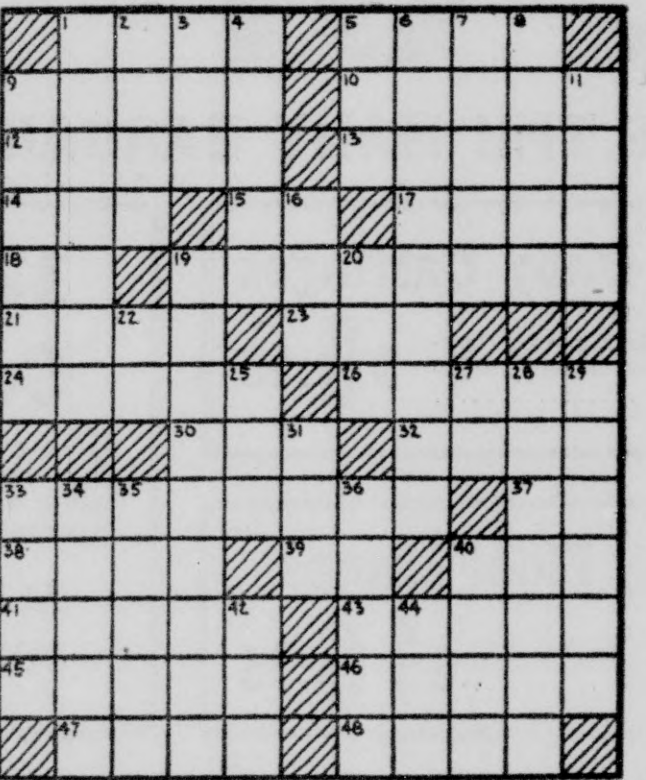

Water will dissolve more things than any other liquid on earth.

New York Orchestra May Tour Europe

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(INS)—A proposal to take the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra on a grand tour of Europe was reported today to be under consideration.

It was reported that Leopold Stokowski would direct the orchestra if the European tour is approved. It would be the first time in 17 years that the philharmonic has toured Europe and the decision rests to a great extent on the attitude of the War and State departments.

Artur Rodzinski resigned this week as musical director of the Philharmonic. It was not known whether Rodzinski had been advised of the plans for a possible European tour of the orchestra or not.

Andrews To Ask Audit Of Teachers' Retirement Fund

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews announced today that Democratic members of the lower chamber will demand an "immediate audit of the multi-million dollar state teachers' retirement fund."

Andrews said a resolution would be introduced "some time next week" calling for a probe of the teachers' retirement fund and expressed hope that Republicans would support the proposed investigation.

He cited six reasons for the audit including the fact that the last was made in 1944 and "there is such a bookkeeping mess that no one knows how much the commonwealth owes the fund."

"The state teachers' retirement is in such a bookkeeping mess that no one really knows whether the money in the fund is earning four per cent as required by law or is being subsidized by the commonwealth in amount sufficient to make up the difference between the actual earnings and four per cent," Andrews said.

He claimed the fund's actuary and the auditor general's department have "repeatedly warned the fund it should modernize its bookkeeping." Up-to-date methods were used by the state employees' retirement fund, he asserted.

Propose Driving Course

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Driving courses in public schools were proposed today in a resolution adopted by a highway safety conference of the Montgomery county commissioners.

The conference also proposed legislation to punish persons who unlawfully attempt to "fix" tickets for traffic violations.

Medical Colleges Need 'Eye Fitters'

DETROIT — (INS) — America's medical colleges have a new job on their hands—production of a new specialist known as the prosthetologist.

And the job must be done "on the double," according to Commander J. V. Niranen of the U. S. navy. The prosthetologist, the naval commander explains, is a person trained to fit the navy's revolutionary new plastic eye.

The optical piece has the sparkle and vivacity of a natural eye and is superior from the standpoint of durability and safety.

And more than 500,000 persons wearing older type glass eyes are waiting for this new specialist to fit them with the navy's new eye.

Commander Niranen said the eyes are individually fitted. This is done by painstakingly taking an impression similar to those used in dentistry.

The eye takes on a natural appearance because its property does not reflect light.

SEES 1947 BOOM IN BUILDING PLANS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—(INS)—It'll be fair and warmer on the housing scene this year. That's the forecast of William E. Johnson, chairman of the mayor's emergency housing committee.

Johnson predicted an increase in building materials in the next 60 days would begin a five-year home-building period in the Philadelphia area.

Johnson expects a recession in new house prices. He said the lifting of the price ceiling from new houses has loosened competition which will force prices down.

TRY SQUARE DANCING

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Girls, are you bothered with piano legs?

If you are, take the advice of Ralph Page who declares: "Try square dancing. That slims 'em."

Page's advice came at a square dancing "forum" at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in answer to a band leader's charge that American women are developing piano legs by too much dancing.

Austin Fails To Break Deadlock On Disarmament

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Warren A. Austin telephoned Andrei A. Gromyko today but failed to break the deadlock between the United States and Russia over the United Nations disarmament program.

The fruitless five-minute talk apparently doomed any chance of agreement on the so-called Colombian compromise scheduled for discussion at this afternoon's five-power conference.

The group, consisting of representatives from France, the U. S., Australia, Russia and Colombia, meets again at three p. m. (EST) under the chairmanship of Belgium's Fernand Van Dangenhoove.

The object of the group is to obtain a workable formulae that can be submitted to the 11-power security council.

At yesterday's session Colombia introduced a one-sentence plan designed to preserve the rights of the atomic commission as the United States demands. At the same time it was aimed at eliminating Gromyko's complaint that the U. S. formula is "repetitious".

NAMED GENERALS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—President Truman today nominated 48 wartime officers to be generals in the Reserve Officers Corps.

The nominations included Lieut. Gen. James H. Doolittle, Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan, Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, Brig. Gen. Julius Ochs Adler, Brig. Gen. F. Trubee Davidson, Brig. Gen. Hanford MacNider, and Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff.

A number of steamers on the Great Lakes are now equipped with radar, making it possible for them to proceed safely under conditions which in prewar days would have caused them to anchor.

Five new river vessels, using what is described as water-jet reactive propulsion working on the principle of a centrifugal pump, have been built by the Soviet Ministry.

Truman Approves United Nations Home Proposal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—President Truman today recommended to Congress that the United States approve acceptance by the United Nations of the eight million, 500 thousand dollar offer made for United Nations headquarters site in New York City.

The President sent identical letters to the Senate president pro-tem and speaker of the House recommending that Congress adopt a joint resolution freeing the property from federal gift taxes.

The President said he considers passage of the resolution "definitely in the public interest."

Mr. Truman said in his letters: "The United Nations desires to take advantage of this generous offer and has requested that the United States comply with the condition attached to this gift."

"I heartily recommend that this government comply with this request. It would appear that the most desirable method by which this gift could be freed from such taxes would be to amend the appropriate section of the internal revenue code. In addition to accomplishing the purpose of complying with the above offer, the effect of such an amendment would be to encourage other public spirited citizens to make gifts to the UN."

IDENTICAL TWINS CONFUSE DOCTORS

JOHNSTOWN, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Identical twins Leonard and Anthony Puglia of Johnstown have confused many a person during their life—even the doctors at Mercy hospital.

The 10-year-old boys proved to physicians that they are as much alike on the inside as they are on the outside.

Leonard suffered an attack of appendicitis January 17 and was rushed to Mercy hospital to have it removed.

Five days later Anthony suffered an attack and had an identical operation.

Their father, Michael, declared: "If one gets sick, the other is sure to follow."

Hearings On Tax Cut Proposals To Start February 19

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The house ways and means committee decided today to begin hearings into Republican tax cut proposals on Feb. 19, with hopes that a bill will be ready for floor action on March 1.

Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., committee chairman, when asked what he thought of chances for adoption of his 20 per cent "across the board" individual tax cut, replied "I think they're good."

Knutson said that the committee voted 15 to 6 for closed hearings and that "some Democrats" sought to keep the hearings open to the public and press.

Rep. Forand (D) R. I., who led the fight for open hearings, remarked to newsmen that "it looks like they have adopted steamroller tactics."

Commission Revokes Graziano's License

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The New York boxing commission threw the book at Rocky Graziano today by revoking his license for the part he played in connection with a frustrated plot to "throw" the Cowboy Ruben Shank fight.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

HARRISBURG, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Pennsylvanians were asked today by Gov. James H. Duff to observe the 37th anniversary February 8 of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

He urged observance of Boy Scout Week "to learn more about scouting, which contributes so much to civic enterprise and community welfare."

For example a new frozen food purveyor that looks like an overgrown slot machine has been devised to serve between 90 and 1,000 frozen food packages.

RAISE FUND FOR DETECTIVE'S FAMILY

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 7.—(INS)—It is known as Thomas P. Conaty Jr. fund. It took less than a week to raise more than $10,000 to swell the fund.

That's the name and the amount so far that the citizens of Wilmington have offered to show their appreciation for the services of the slain Detective Conaty.

Conaty was shot to death Christmas week by 17-year-old Danny Norris, police said.

The Conaty fund will be turned over to the detective's widow and three children.

Increased Jewish Immigration Into Palestine Is Seen

LONDON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Authoritative British circles disclose tonight that the government of Prime Minister Clement Richard Attlee is believed working on "stop-gap" measures for increased Jewish immigration into Palestine.

These sources said that no decision has been reached as yet despite an article in the London Daily Express which said the cabinet had decided upon measures for immediate entry of 100,000 Jews into Palestine.

Best information is that some temporary steps would be taken pending preparation of a final solution.

Britain-Russia Disapprove U. S. Holding Bases

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Britain and Russia have informed the United States that they disapprove American trusteeship title at the present time to "strategic area" Pacific bases to which this country asserts a claim.

The islands involved are the Marshalls, Marianas, Okinawa and Iwo Jima, taken at great cost of lives by American forces during the war.

However, the views of the two powers were not taken very seriously in Washington today since neither country indicated objection to the United States sole trusteeship under a United Nations mandate once the Japanese peace treaty is signed. This may take a year or two.

Already in Occupation
The United States is already in occupation of the islands and when claims were presented this government asked for the views of other interested Pacific powers. Australia was reported to share the same views as Great Britain.

The British and Russian views were communicated in separate notes delivered to the State department last week.

The British note was said to take the legalistic position that without the signing of the Japanese peace treaty with Tokyo renouncing all claims to the islands the United States' title would not be legally clear.

At the same time the United States claims were inserted it was pointed out that in no event could the United States be obliged to give up the bases.

As one of the "Big Five" members of the United Nations Security Council, United States could veto any alternative trusteeship plan and in the meantime, being in possession of the islands, sit and hold them.

SKATING AT CITY POND TONIGHT

C. F. Suber, in charge of the Mayor's Recreation Committee's ice skating pond on Mahoning avenue, announced this morning that there will be skating on the pond tonight.

Workers are scraping the snow from the ice, preparing it for activities tonight. There has been very little skating done on the pond thus far this year, but it is hoped by the committee that a great many people will enjoy ice skating there the rest of the winter. Every thing has been prepared for the comfort and enjoyment of the skaters and been ready for some time.

LT. COL. MAYNARD B. WEAVER, Denver Army recruiting officer, searches the books for a way to permit former Maj. Arthur W. Wermuth, right, "the one man army of Bataan," to re-enlist in the Army as a master sergeant. Wermuth, now a resident of Hill City, S. ## Believe Missing Girl Was Drowned

BELLE VERNON, Pa., Feb. 7.—"There is little doubt now that Dolores Snyder is in the Monongahela river," state police said after stands of human hair were pulled up by grappling irons Thursday as a search continued for the 17-year-old Lynnwood school girl who plummeted into the icy stream last Friday night from Belle Vernon bridge.

It was believed that the girl may have thought the second time of her suicide try, but was too late to save herself when she stepped over the ledge and clutched a cable. Before her companion, Barbara Poland, 17, of Lynnwood, could bring aid the girl was swept from the bridge by high winds and drowned. Today the case took a definite turn, grapples pulled up strands of hair, their first leading clue in the long, weary search for the missing Dolores.

Walter Snyder, father of the girl, viewed the hair and said it was the same color as that of his daughter. Try The News Want Ads For Results

New Castle High Playing Beaver Falls Here Tonight

Locals Anxious To Avenge Upset At Valley Court

Coach Bill Douglass Will Start Original "Whiz Kids" Five Tonight

PLAY ALIQUIPPA TUESDAY EVENING

Waiting since January 7th to get even with the Beaver Falls Tigers for a 44 to 43 upset at the valley court, an aroused and determined New Castle High "Whiz Kids" basketball team will arrive for a win tonight as they entertain the Beaver Falls quintet at the Washington High gym.

The preliminary game between the New Castle and Beaver Falls Jayvees will commence at 7 o'clock.

Coach Bill Douglass is hopeful that his "Kids" can win their third sectional bout this evening. Ambridge and Ellwood has fallen to the locals in seven loop battles.

Home Season Waning

After tonight there are just three home games left on the 1947 card—Erie Strong Vincent, Sharon and Ellwood City. The "Whiz Kids" are given a chance to win all of these battles providing they play the kind of basketball they are capable of.

For not having a basketball court they can call their own, the New Castle High passers have done remarkably well, with nine wins and seven defeats. If the locals could play on the floor on which they do most of their practicing, Senior High—there might have a better home record, that's something to think about.

Can Win Tonight

Douglass is starting his original "Whiz Kids" tonight with Don Black and Don Spears at the forwards, Chuck Rea at center, and Don Waters and Tony Ciallella at the guards. In reserve he will have such capable performers as Wayne Gray, "Harpy" Janacene, Al Tate, Gene Gribble and Pears.

Beaver Falls have not done too well since defeating New Castle—incidentally their only loop win—but will be dangerous nevertheless, with such stars as Willoughby, McCandless and Why, the latter a Chinese boy, in the starting lineup, New Castle can not underestimate this Tiger team in view of what happened at Beaver Falls. New Castle should win tonight, by all law of averages—but averages don't mean much if the boys are not in a winning mood.

Indications are that another 1,200 crowd will jam the junior high court for the proceedings.

ROLIE HEMSELY SIGNS

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The Phillies had another backstop in the fold today. Catcher Rolie Hemsey filled in the dotted line on his 1947 contract without a murmur, except to say he's in peak condition, five pounds less than last year.

Veterans Win In Overtime Session

Vets Of Foreign Wars Take Thriller At Falcon Hall Court, 62 To 55

Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 315 Post basketball team won from the Polish Falcons last night in an overtime period battle 62-55 at the Falcon hall, staging a real up-hill fight after trailing in the first period 23 to 2. In the dying seconds of the regulation game McFate tied the score and in the extra-session the ex-soldiers turned on the big guns, scoring 14 points to seven for the Falcons.

Starring in the thrilling game for the Vets were McFate and Chuck Galanski, while Pomka, Ray Koszela and Ray Owoc led the Falcons in tallying. The Vets are coached by Ted Galanski and are a tough outfit to beat.

Optimists Will Banquet Gridders

Lawrence County All-Stars And Coaches To Be Banqueted

Members of the Lawrence County All-Star football team and coaches will be honored guests at a banquet in Union High school Saturday evening, Feb. 15, at 6:30 o'clock, it was announced today by Banquet Chairman Michael Bowden.

Dick Fischer, backfield coach at the University of Pittsburgh, a former Ohio State grid star will be the principal speaker. He will have a real football talk for the boys. Fischer is assistant to Wesley Fessler at Pitt.

Also on the speaking program will be All-Star head coach Willie Ciccone and Philip H. Bridenbaugh, the latter head grid coach at New Castle High school.

Jorgensen Signs With Pittsburgh

IOWA CITY, Ia., Feb. 7.—(INS)—Noble Jorgensen, Iowa's towering center who was ruled scholastically ineligible, revealed he has signed a contract with the Pittsburgh Iron Men of the Association of American Professional basketball league.

HOUSE LOOP GAMES

Two more games were played in the House league at the "Y" last night, the Redskins dumping the Ramblers 35 to 32, and Kings trimming the "Y" Seniors, 47 to 33.

NEW YORK BOXING COMMISSION will hand down a decision in the Rocky Graziano case this afternoon. Graziano, an outstanding fighter was reported to have been offered a bribe to throw a fight to Cowboy Reuben Shank. His managers called off the fight. Rocky did not report the offer to the commission, as stipulated by the rules, and when quizzed said he did not know the name of the tempter. . . . Jimmy Nichols, one-armed golfer, never played golf before losing his arm in an auto crash in 1939. In his first game he found a $10 bill on the course. . . . Pittsburgh Pirates have three good attractions: Bing Crosby, Honus Wagner and Hank Greenberg. It is dollars to doughnuts that if Crosby would sing, Honus coach and Hank appear in any one game, no park would hold the crowd. . . . Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, rates Mike Jacobs as a greater promoter than Tex Rickard who gave the two Jacks a chance to earn their bundles of lettuce.

Like an employer, satisfied with an employee's service, despite a misdeed now and then, Tommy Leach is giving consideration to a plea of Ike Bell, decided recently by Bill Pozza, that he be given another fistic assignment here. The fact remains that Ike fought well and did not at any time "dog it," hence he may be on the next amateur card, against a good opponent. . . . Ahem! A secret is out. Through the grapevine comes a report that Jim Hodge, the Harlanburg outdoorsman also has a roster that is given to flogging people. . . . Owen Fox, city forester, who planted black walnut and butternut trees at Gaston park years ago, said they bear and provide food for the squirrels. "When the time arrives, I go around, knock the nuts off the limbs and the squirrels do the rest," Fox told Here & There. . . . Do you know that when Nick Casillo and Owen Fox were in Alaska they killed Eagles and were paid $1 per tongue because the Eagles were so numerous they affected the salmon industry?

Plate glass, as a substitute for wire screening, has been introduced in San Francisco ball park. . . . Dug-outs may next be glassified. . . . Do you know that when George Chip was training for Sailor Petroskey in California a sparring partner struck him in the mouth inflicting a nasty gash in his tongue, and that without taking an anesthetic he permitted a surgeon to stitch the wound? That requires courage. . . . Joey Maxim got $7,500 and Marty Clark $500, for Joey to stop Clark in the seventh round at Miami. . . . Ted Atkinson, leading jockey in 1946, started his turf career with the Greenree stable at Red Bank, N. J., farm. His verbal contribution to Jimmy Burns of the Miami Herald was: "If you are riding for outfits that are sending top-conditioned horses to the post, you're going to ride a lot of winners." In which there is logic. . . . In his early day, Bob Meermans was a good wrestler. . . . Glenmore boulevard tennis court has not been used for several years. There is a need for more net courts here. . . . Tom Farrow, colored policeman, once was a member of the Dime fistic brigade.

Should anyone have the sheriff's bee in his noodle, read: Former Sheriff Cy Ingham was a ball player, likewise ex-Sheriff Bill Andrews and the present incumbent, Frank Coen, is yet baseballing. Tommy O'Brien, an ex-deputy was an outfielder, and the late Connie Wardman was a ball player. A present deputy, Fred Shaffer, is yet diamonding. . . . John Hardy, member of the state police on duty here, managed and trained Rich Gregory, erstwhile lightweight and marine, prior to Rich joining the stable of Charlie Jones-of-Louisville. . . . Long before he became an accountant, Ted Castelle was a sparring mate to Eddie Weygant and because of his slender build was called "Spider" by the late Jimmie Dime. . . . Attorney Joe McFate was one of the best local tennis players some years ago. . . . Lawrence County Sportsman's club will meet February 11 in the court-house. New members are acceptable. . . . Why not a roller skating race in The Arena? Possibly some good fast events could be staged by local devotees.

Greenberg Confers About Salary With President McKinney

Big Hank Greenberg In Pittsburgh For Writers Annual Banquet

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Frank E. McKinney, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was en route north from Palm Beach, Fla., to confer with Hank Greenberg on 1947 contract terms, according to ball club officials.

Greenberg is in Pittsburgh today to attend the sports writers' dinner Sunday.

Meanwhile a second contract has been mailed to Edson Bahr, holdout pitcher who was dissatisfied with the original offer he received.

Pirates headquarters reported the receipt of a signed contract from Jim Walsh, rookie hurler. Walsh lost two games with the Bucs last season but had considerable success at the New York farm club.

Dave Ferriss Has Signed For 1947

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Dave Ferriss, 25-game winner last year, was signed up today to pitch for the Boston Red Sox.

The amiable resident of Shaw, Miss. telephoned Manager Joe Cronin that the contract was in the mails and he was completely satisfied.

Ohio State Job, Who Will Get It

Fessler, Gillman, Brown, Faurot, And Mollenkopf Prominently Mentioned

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(International News Service Sports Editor)
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—The Buckeye state in general and Columbus in particular buzzed today with what is by way of becoming an almost annual query.

"Who is going to replace Paul Bixler as Ohio State football coach?" The famous High street quarterback was asking his neighbors.

Five Leading Candidates

Wesley Fessler, former Ohio State All-American, a team-mate of incoming Athletic Director Dick Larkins, and present Pittsburgh coach;

Sid Gillman, another Buck All-American, like Fessler an end, and now a highly successful coach at Miami University;

Paul Brown, the Massillon Cinderella man, who left a previous tenure as OWU coach to come chief potentate of the Cleveland Browns;

Don Faurot, Missouri U. coach, known to be highly regarded by Ohio State officials;

And Jack Mollenkopf, Toledo Waite athletic director, reportedly the "favorite son" candidate of the Ohio high school football coaches association.

Pitt-West Virginia Battle Saturday

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—(INS)—If you don't have a ticket for tomorrow night's Pitt-West Virginia basketball game, you're just out of luck.

There'll be no ticket sale at Pitt stadium before game time.

The stadium, which seats 55,000 for football, can crowd but 2600 on seats around the basketball court, and of that number 2250 go to Pitt students.

That leaves but 350 for the hundreds of Pittsburgh area fans who want to see the unbeaten Mountaineers in action.

The game will be the 64th in the series which began in 1906 between the two clubs. Pitt now holds a 39-24 edge.

Elks And Saxons Battle Saturday

The New Castle Elks No. 69 basketball team will battle the Saxons at the Franklin High floor at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening instead of 8 o'clock as previously announced, owing to a party at the Elks club for the Saxons following the game. There will not be any preliminary game, it was stated.

MACKS RELEASE JOOST

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Eddie Joost, recalcitrant A's shortstop, was given a free hand today by Manager Connie Mack to seek greener pastures. Joost is demanding $15,000, so Connie gave him permission to make a deal for himself.

The New York Yankees have 40 of their 48 players in the fold for 1947 with the signing of Bill Johnson, third baseman, and Frank Hillier, Rookie right-handed pitcher.

Babe Ruth Hits 52 Mark Today

Ruth Winning Greatest Game Of His Life In New York Hospital

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(INS)—A gaunt, emaciated figure, mere shadow of the slugger who once could hit a baseball further than any man who ever lived, observed his 52nd birthday today amid sombre surroundings at French hospital.

George Herman (Babe) Ruth, King of them all, was fighting—and winning—the toughest battle of his career. He was isolated behind closed doors, but millions of admirers had not forgotten him.

With thin hands at the end of match-like arms, the old slugger fingered thousands of scrawled notes and birthday cards which flooded the hospital. It cheered the Babe up immeasurably to realize that neither kids nor adults had forgotten him.

Getting Along Nicely
The Bambino, recuperating slowly but surely from a delicate neck operation, was reported "getting along very nicely." His only visitors were Mrs. Ruth, Mrs. Julia Flanders, his daughter, and two or three very intimate friends.

To Ruth, his birthday annually is a problem something like leap year. As far as he is concerned and as long as he can remember, his birthday always rolled around on Feb. 7. That's the way it was until he discovered he was born on Feb. 6. Babe found it out when forced to dig up his birth certificate before going to Japan in 1934.

But anyway, today's the day he lights up the candles.

Carl Cox, Fine Looking Rookie, Up With Pirates

Carl Cox Will Give Billy Cox
Battle For Shortstop
Position

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates will have a pair of namesakes fighting for the same infield job next season.

That was assured today when Carl Cox, 26-year-old shortstop up from Albany, sent in his signed contract from his California home.

When spring training opens at Miami Beach, Fla., late this month, Carl will have to fight it out with Billy Cox of Harrisburg, Pa., last year's regular Buc shortstop, for the position.

Heavy Hitter
Carl batted .327 and fielded almost flawlessly with Albany last year. He has been tabbed by Tom McCaffrey, Albany owner, as one of the greatest prospects he ever has seen.

Billy Herman, Pirate manager, said recently that if Carl was unable to oust Billy from the shortstop spot he might fill another infield post.

The Bucs also announced the contract of Art Herring, veteran pitcher obtained from Brooklyn, had been received.

Expect 'Rocky' Verdict Today

Upon Ring Solons Decision Rests
Return Bout With Champ
Zale

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(INS)—All through the night (presumably), the boxing commission has struggled ever upward toward the light it hoped would guide it all the way to common sense, in re., that Snide $100,000 attempt to deprive Rocky Graziano of his virtue. The ordeal was understood to have left the board's two members visibly shaken.

However, they were due to come out of it at 1 p. m. today with an announced solution whose immediate effect can hardly be nominal.

Titular Bout In Balance
It will do more than inform Graziano and the world of men the penalty, if any, he is to pay for whatever he knew, if anything, about the proposal to handsomely "en-bag" a scheduled contest of skill with Cowboy Ruben Shunk.

It also will apprise boxing of its chances of getting the green or the red tower lights for the world's mid-geweight championship fight between Graziano and Tony Zale, scheduled for March 21 at Madison Square Garden. A lengthy or indeterminate suspension for Graziano would end any immediate hope for the promotion.

Bradley Rejoins Indians As Scout

CLEVELAND, Feb. 7.—(INS)—Bill Bradley, former Indians third baseman, rejoined the Cleveland scouting staff Thursday.

Bradley, former teammate of the legendary Larry Lajoie on the Cleveland Naps, will work the Ohio area along with Cyril C. Slapnicka, discoverer of Bob Feller.

The new talent-seeker returns to the tribe from the Detroit Tigers where he worked in a similar position last year.

Shades Of Wampum At Chicago, Illinois

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—(INS)—A new Chicago basketball scoring record for high school teams was written into the books today.

Wells set the record by romping over Medill, 112 to 18, in a public school league game yesterday on the winner's floor.

The score at half-time was 57 to 7 and 67 to 11 at the end of the third period.

Penn State's wartime mat coach, Paul Campbell still wrestles with the law. He's a successful attorney.

FAIR OR FOUL
BY LAWTON CARVER
Sports Editor, International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Spring is approximately here, although you wouldn't be able to recognize it from a New York window. Everything is covered with snow, and no robin would dare wander beyond the family hearth for fear of getting his ears frapped.

But here is the first baseball spring training picture of the year from these precincts, showing owner Horace Stoneham and Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants on a train heading for Phoenix, Ariz., where the Giants will train.

Finished In Cellar
This proves not only that Messrs. Stoneham and Ott know enough to get out of this weather, but that they also have the courage to show up in camp with stalwart stars who finished so far in the cellar last season that they have been all winter digging their way out.

These gentlemen will join the few players who already have reached sunny climes in preparation for training, but the bulk of the load won't begin to move for another week or so. Then from the assembled hosts will come such startling and original lines as this:

"We ought to win that pennant next season, if we get the hitting and our pitching holds up. We've got a mighty well-balanced ball club, with the veterans and the rookies all a-hustle to beat the band."

The way I got her figured out we will be there or thereabouts when that old bunting is clinched. Yes siree."

Watch Sam Fuzz

If you will hold still you will be told all about this here great rookie name of Sam Fuzz, who looks like the nearest thing to Ty Cobb since the old Georgia Peach slit his last gullet with flying spikes.

Sam Fuzz will be back at Swizzle Switch by mid-June, but he will be great while he lasts. He will last until the pitchers get control and start sending that fast ball crackling in over the plate looking about the size of a green pea.

If our fictional rookie happens to be with the Giants, however, his time won't be exactly wasted even if he is doomed to fail as a major leaguer. He will get to see a reasonably large segment of the world.

The Giants will wander all the way to Honolulu, besides playing exhibitions through the southwest and south. The New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers won't exactly be stay-at-homes themselves.

They will be all over the Latin-America map, except Mexico.

Shy From Mexico

That's the land of the Pasquels and the Mexican league, and no club-owner would risk leading his hired hands right down under the noses of the brothers who raided the major leagues into a state of hysteria last year.

They reportedly have their eyes on several more performers, and their wallets near at hand, causing our club-owners no end of fretfulness. While they can't always stop their players from jumping over the border, they don't plan to be silly enough deliberately to put their men on the scene. They will at least make the Pasquels come and get them.

Aside from all of which, the spring training routine will bring 11 clubs to Florida, two to California, two to Arizona and one to Havana. The latter is the Brooklyn club, which, like the Yanks, will act out the good neighbor policy with Latin-America. They also get big guarantees down there for exhibitions.

Baltimore Seeks Coach Isbell From Purdue University

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 7.—(INS)

—There were persistent rumors afloat on the Purdue campus today that head football Coach Cecil Isbell wouldn't be around for the 1947 season.

The reports, quoting informed sources, said the ex-Green Bay Packer star would resign to accept the head coaching job with the Baltimore coaching in the All American Pro conference.

Isbell wouldn't talk much about the matter.

He admitted, however, that he had conferred in the Maryland city with the club owner, Robert Rodenberg. Isbell added that he was giving Rodenberg's offer "some consideration". The curly-haired former passing ace became the Boilermaker's coach in 1944.
